School Committee's Report

To the citizens of Granville:

The School Committee herewith submit their annual report.

In October superintendent H. C. Bales received an election to the superintendency of the Deerfield union and asked to be released from this district, November 1st.

David J. Malcomb of Cambridge was elected to fill the vacancy made by Mr. Bales' resignation and commenced his duties November 15. Mr. Malcomb is a graduate from Harvard college. Since leaving college he has taught in New York State and Cambridge, Mass.

The "high cost of living" is felt in school matters as well as in all other sides of life. Teachers' salaries have to be larger to meet the demands of the Teachers' Retirement Association, the increased price of board and higher prices all along the line of living. The cost of books and all School supplies is greater than ever before.

No repairs have been made on the school buildings but those of the most urgent need.

During the year high school tuition has been paid for the following pupils:

Westfield High School:

Evelyn C. Holcomb

Katherine M. Noble

Mabel F. Gibbons

Bernard F. Roache

Helen J. Arnold
 Marguerite J. Arnold
 Raymond H. Farnham
 Herbert A. Hiers
 Dorothy M. Wills
 Geroula F. Prewitt
 Mildred Frisbie
 Leroy Frisbie

Technical High School, Springfield:

Edith E. Phelan
 Richard H. Fox

High School of Commerce, Springfield:

Elva Fox
 Helen Huddleston
 Dorothy M. Tryon

In order to meet the increased expenses of the schools for the coming year, we respectfully ask for, $4,100

We have sent in to the treasurer the following orders:

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of Granville:

Herewith is submitted my first annual report, which is the twenty-six annual report of the superintendent of schools.

The aim of education is to teach how to think, for as a great man once said the man who really knows what is right will do what is right. Nothing of any importance can be done without the ability to think. To most of us, thinking is a painful process and is never properly mastered. The man with a keen mind, a mind that thinks, is a leader, and consequently has an advantage that nothing can offset. Wealth, birth, or prestige count for nothing compared with this most precious jewel within reach of everyone. Therefore, all my efforts, as the head of your schools, will be directed towards developing boys and girls who can think.

Reading is the great tool of education. We can do almost nothing unless we can read, can read English and understand it, can read nature, can read machinery, can read people. A person could spend his whole life learning to read and then find books in his mother tongue which he could not fully understand. Who can explain every passage of the Bible or Shakespeare? How often we would like to understand a law, but because it is written in a technical style, it is Greek to us. Thus, we readily agree that reading is of tremendous importance. I plan to place special emphasis on reading while I am in your system.

The teacher is the most important element in all school work. Without good teachers our time is wasted, our money misspent and our children are often actually harmed. Pause for a moment and look over your own school life. What stands out most clearly? Is it not the recollection of some one teacher? Good teachers cost a lot of money, but they are worth it. I trust it will be your policy to be liberal with the amount of money for their salaries, that you may be able to secure and retain good teachers and keep them happy. Dissatisfied teachers are the most expensive kind. We should endeavor to retain the same teaching force from year to year, and thus eliminate the loss of starting a new teacher in each school every year.

THE VALUE OF HIGH SCHOOL INSTRUCTION.

A prominent speaker recently said, "There is published in this country a book called 'Who's Who in America'. It contains the names of 12,000 of our most prominent Americans. Of the 12,000,000 people in this country who have had only a common school education one in 9000 has his name in this book; of the 2,000,000 who can not write, not one name appears. Of the 650,000 who have graduated from high schools, we find one in every 440 names; and of the 350,000 college graduates, we find one name in every 42.

"Thus we see that the grammar school graduate has 900 chances to the other fellow's one; the high school graduate has 2,000 chances to one, and the college man has 8000 chances to one."

These figures are based upon the number of men in this country over thirty years of age, and if they are correct we see at once how valuable education is. Do you want your child to have a 900 to one chance, or a 2000 to one chance?

It rests with you. Send him to high school and give him every opportunity. The state pays the expenses, and you reap the profits in after years.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID JOHNSTON MALCOLM,
Superintendent of Schools.

DO YOU REALIZE .

That we had 142 pupils in our schools last year?

That we had 17 pupils attending high schools?

That we had an average of 117.35 pupils belonging to our schools each day?

That we had an average of 104.56 pupils present each day?

That we had an average of 12.79 pupils absent each day?

That we had 586 pupils tardy last year?

That this is a disgrace?

That it cost $7,133.92 to run our schools last year?

That the state and other outside sources paid $3,433.92 of this money?

That you paid $3,700 of the money with your local taxes?

That roughly speaking it cost $60.78 for each pupil for the year?

That it cost 35c. each day for each pupil?

That you paid 18c. for each child you see going to school each day from local tax?

That $777.38 was wasted because 12.79 pupils were absent each day?

That you can prevent this waste by sending your children to school as regularly as possible, and by urging your neighbor to do likewise?

THE HAMPDEN COUNTY LEAGUE

The Hampden County League, through its Educational Committee, has been active among the children of Granville during the year. This work, although entirely independent of the school committee, has its hearty approval and cooperation as long as it aids, rather than interferes with regular school work.

I am sure the leaders of the different clubs have done much to stimulate a more agreeable attitude towards the more familiar objects of life, and we, as citizens of Granville, owe them our thanks. I trust they may continue to have the good will and assistance of everyone, in order that their good work may continue with increased efficiency.

Report of Library Trustees

One hundred and forty-eight volumes have been added to the Library during 1916, making a total of 3752 volumes.

Although the number of cards issued decreased last year the circulation of books increased. Two thousand and fourteen books and 976 magazines were circulated.

The Library Club has given 30 volumes of bound magazines and, with the exception of four periodicals given by the Public Library Commission, supplied the reading room with magazines and periodicals. The state has given 11 vital records, Free Public Library Commission 43 books.

Books from the Library are placed in all school houses outside the village.

The Branch Library at West Granville has increased both in number of cards issued and number of books circulated. 54 cards were issued and 328 volumes circulated.

The Library Club has paid one half the running expenses of the Library except Librarian's salary.

We do not have to ask what the ladies, mothers and sisters are doing for these young men; the question is, what are you men doing? Do you realize what these young men are doing for you? They are offering up their lives for you, their mothers and sisters, for their country, for freedom. Do you not think it is time we organize and create a fund, the proceeds of which shall go for the comfort of the young men going from this town, and keep in touch with them, let them know that they are not forgotten, that we realize and appreciate what they are doing for us.

School Committee's Report

To the citizens of Granville:

The School Committee herewith submit their annual report.

At a meeting of the joint board of this union school district, held April, 1917, David J. Malcolm was elected Superintendent for three years at a salary of $1,700.00 per year, Granville paying 30% of this and receiving the same proportion of the Superintendent's time.

There have been no large repairs on any of the buildings, which leaves a larger unexpended balance than some years. There are needed repairs which have been omitted owing to the increased cost of material and labor. Some of these it will not be good policy to delay much longer. The grammar school building should have outside paint, and other buildings need the same and new sills. New stoves have been put in the Center and North Lane schoolrooms.

Two rooms have had new window shades. A Victrola has been presented to the Center School. The children have earned some of the records by work in different ways.

The teachers' salaries had a small increase in some cases at the beginning of the year.

The following pupils are attending High School:

Westfield High School:

Evelyn C. Holcomb
Mabel E. Gibbons
Bernard F. Roache
Elizabeth C. Arnold
Donald E. Noble
Buell S. Dickinson
Lucy E. Roberts
Fanny F. Rock

Springfield Technical High School;

Edith H. Phelon

Richard H. Fox

Springfield High School of Commerce:

Helen Huddleston

Smith Agricultural School, Northampton:

Bernice Dickinson

Joseph Dickinson

Burton Cooley

Ralph R. Roberts (part of the year)

Westfield Industrial School:

Frank Wills

Ralph H. Hiers

In order to meet the expenses of the schools for the ensuing year we respectfully ask for $4,300.00.

We have sent to the Treasurer the following orders:

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

For the Year 1917.

To the School Committee of Granville:

Herewith is submitted my second annual report, which is the twenty-seventh annual report of the Superintendent of Schools of Granville.

The year has not seen any radical changes in our schools, but rather has witnessed that slow, steady progress that means success. I believe the schools are a little better today than they were a year ago.

OUR TEACHING STAFF has given me delightful satisfaction in almost every instance. With one exception, we have well trained teachers with records of high scholarship. I trust no effort will be spared in trying to retain their services for another year. We should aim to make our teachers permanent fixtures. The condition of the labor market is reflected in our normal schools. Students are leaving their studies and are going into factories at salaries far higher than we are paying our teachers. Ten and eleven dollars a week will not secure good teachers next June. Only a liberal appropriation for school purposes will enable us to keep up our present standard and fill our vacancies with the kind of teachers we want in Granville.

THE AGENT OF THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION, Mr. Burr F. Jones, visited this district in an effort to make suggestions about our transportation problems. The following extract from his letter is self-explanatory.

"Perhaps it may be of interest to you to know some of the general impressions which a foreigner gets from a hasty glance at the schools of your district.

Teachers: Trained and alert.

Schoolhouses: Good features—Slate blackboards, individual drinking cups, good sanitary provisions. Bad features: Poor lighting, windows being incorrectly placed; not sufficient window space.

Needed: A constructive program for schoolhouse improvement.

The possibility of effective consolidation seems worthy of study.

(Signed) BURR F. JONES,

Agent for Elementary Schools."

THE NORTHEAST SCHOOL was not reopened in September, and it appears now as if the Stow School must be closed. At present it has only three pupils. The teacher has resigned, and no candidate for the position can be found to take her place. The problem of transporting the children has not yet been settled.

CONSOLIDATION. We have eight schools with a total of eighty pupils in Granville today. A year ago we had 118. Consequently, it is very apparent we should change our educational policy at once and organize a constructive program of consolidation. Two plans present themselves, namely, one school for the whole town except Beech Hill, or a school at the center and another at West Granville.

A school of three teachers would take care of all our children. I am very much in favor of this plan in preference to the two school suggestion. The single large school would provide advantages not to be had in smaller schools. It would give each teacher fewer grades, three each, with a correspondingly greater opportunity to specialize her work. It would abolish entirely the one room rural schools which are fast failing to meet the requirements of modern life. It would bring all the children together and develop a real community interest. The children from the outlying districts would no longer feel strange when they come down to the corner. We could build an up-to-date plant and could offer greater inducements towards keeping the older children in school longer. In brief, such a school would offer dozens of advantages over our present schools.

I admit consolidation over our roads has many disadvantages, but I am sure they will all disappear when we make the change. The town of Tolland had half a dozen schools a few years ago, now it has one. It had to face the same problems we must face—long, cold drives in winter, small children away from home all day, poor transportation accommodations, etc. What has been her experience? The Tolland School today is one of the best known rural schools in this state, and the people of Tolland are proud of their school and pleased with the instruction their children are getting.

We can do what Tolland did and do it a great deal better, for our roads are more travelled, our homes are not so distant, and our school would be larger. Probably we would not save many dollars, but we would get a far better school system for the same expense we are now under. We could have a school to be proud of, a credit to the town.

BOARDING THE TEACHERS has become an acute problem in certain sections of the town. It has been almost impossible for the teachers at the corner to find a boarding place within a reasonable distance of the school this year. Unless families with proper accommodations realize the danger, we are apt to find it necessary to close our schools because no one will board the teacher. A consolidated school would help to solve boarding problem, but until such a change is made teachers must live somewhere, and I hope someone will realize this fact, and, if possible, take the teachers to board. It would help matters a great deal if certain people would stop recalling little unpleasantnesses of past teachers and begin to say something good about them.

A SURVEY of our school plant is to be found on another page, a study of which will show where we need to make changes. On the whole, I think our grading of 75 percent. is above the average for schools of our type, and I doubt if it will be good business to invest very much money in repairs and replacements until after we decide about consolidating or not.

OUR ATTENDANCE this year has averaged 87 percent. compared with 89 percent. last year. I am sorry we were not able to do better, for absentees do themselves and the school an infinite amount of harm. I trust the parents will co-operate with me from now on, and thus avoid the disagreeable features of the attendance laws, which require that a child must not be absent from school more than seven days in six months, except for sickness. I have no choice about enforcing the law when a child is out of school illegally.

HOW THE SCHOOL MONEY IS SPENT is illustrated on another page. I wish to call your attention to the difference in the amounts spent for transportation and for text-books and supplies, and ask if something should not be done to equalize these two items. We need a decidedly new conception of the transportation privileges for pupils attending schools within the town. Children who can walk and do walk, should not be paid for being carried, as has been the case this year.

IN CLOSING, I wish to state that my work has been a pleasure this year, and I hope I have been able to give some small degree of assistance in return for your patience and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID J. MALCOLM,

Superintendent of Schools.

Jan. 17, 1919

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF GRANVILLE

The following report of the public schools of this town is respectfully submitted for your consideration. This is the twenty-eighth in the series of reports by Superintendents of schools and the third by the present incumbent.

Socrates maintained that no man would do wrong if he knew what was right, and I believe the same truth applies to the citizens of Granville in regards to their school policy. With this in view, I am taking some extra space in an effort to show them the value of education as measured in dollars and cents. The great War was fought for the sake of our children. We adults could have stood the tyranny of autocracy for the few short years we shall tarry on this globe, but it is different with our children. We must protect them. The same motives should govern our decisions concerning school appropriations and school policies. What we do for the schools we are doing for our children. It is for you to decide if they are to continue to have the best schools you know how to secure or not. I have no doubt as to your decision.

TEACHERS AND SALARIES

We have been extremely fortunate in our teaching force this year. I consider three of our seven teachers distinctly better than the average and the other four as good as the average. All have conducted themselves as ladies outside the school, and as teachers inside. Entire credit for our success is due to your liberal policy in the matter of salaries last spring.

A law setting the minimum salary for teachers in towns of one million dollar valuation at $550 a year went into effect on January 1, 1919. Although technically we are exempt, the law has affected us as much as any one, for no good teacher will come to Granville for $12 a week when she must be paid $14.50 if she goes to Southwick. We may as well recognize this fact at once and govern ourselves accordingly. A strong movement is on foot to amend the statute so as to make it apply to all towns. The bill calls for reimbursment from the state for part of the salary.

I have been permitted on several occasions during the last year to remind different members of the legislature and members of Board of Education that the citizens of our neighborhood are generous in the support of their schools, but that outside assistance, such as this bill provides, is necessary if we are to continue to compete with more prosperous communities in our endeavor to give equal educational opportunities to everyone.

SCHOOL GROUNDS

Little or nothing has been done to improve school grounds since my appointment. I propose that a systematic effort be begun this spring in this direction. The Grammar School grounds possess natural beauty not equalled in the county. I recommend that the rocks be removed from the edge of the brook and that the banking be graded in a suitable manner. With very little expense the school yard can be made a spot to be proud of. A few settees under the trees or near the brook would be an addition many would appreciate on a Sunday afternoon or in the warm summer evenings.

GRADING AND PROMOTIONS

It is with much disappointment I learn that our children are not distinguishing themselves in the proper manner in the Westfield High School. I presume considerable blame should be placed on my shoulders and I accept it. Apparently our requirements for promotion and graduation have not been strict enough, and certain children in years gone by have been allowed to squeeze from grade to grade not fully prepared. Then when they reached the ninth grade a little extra study enabled them to do their work from day to day and thus graduate. Mr. Kitteredge complains of a lack of foundation, especially in English. Therefore I propose to make a thorough re-examination of all pupils and to regrade all who are not doing first class work. Such a reform will disappoint some children and vex some parents, but it will be a real blessing to the unfortunate child who is struggling along at the tail-end of a class. It is much better to know a few things thoroughly than a number of things partially. No one cares whether a child has a diploma or not, except his parents, if he cannot read and write and do the amount of number work required in everyday life. I shall endeavor to impress upon my teachers and pupils that the World judges a person by what he does, not what he claims he can do.

PRIMARY SCHOOL

I was unable to secure a suitable teacher for the Primary School last September due to the number of teachers doing war work. I hired two very promising candidates, but before school opened they were offered better positions nearer home and resigned. Miss Deans the Grammar School teacher, offered to take both rooms temporarily, but as time went on and no teacher could be secured, the committee decided to ask her to continue the work which she was so successfully doing. We gave her a slight increase in salary for the extra work. The change has been quite satisfactory thus far and I have every reason to believe it will continue so throughout the year. However, we must remember the change is due to war conditions and cannot be called an improvement. We may discover later that it will pay to hire an extra teacher again next fall. The objectionable feature is not the number of pupils, but the number of recitations to be heard in a day.

INFLUENZA

Our schools, except the Grammar School, have lost very little time from influenza compared with other schools in this neighborhood, and unless another outbreak occurs we will be able to complete our full time before the end of June. For several reasons we decided to keep the teachers in Granville while the schools were closed. Therefore, it became necessary to pay them while idle part of the time.

NICHEVO

Nichevo is a Russian word which means "Let things take their own course." The following table shows how our enrollment has decreased during the past ten years and how cost of instruction has increased. But it does not show how the quality of instruction has changed. I am inclined to fear it has not improved with increased cost.

Year	Average Membership	Cost per Pupil
1908	136	30
1909	145	29
1910	142	28
1911	133	32
1912	130	35
1913	122	44
1914	119	43
1915	121	59
1916	117	61
1917	111	64

Do we want our schools to "nichevo" or do we want to look for a way to improve matters? I recommend that a determined effort be made to study the advantages and disadvantages of consolidation in a hilly country. For the most part consolidation has been satisfactory, and I believe we could consolidate satisfactorily here. I can see no very great obstacles in combining the North Lane, the Center and the Grammar Schools, and having two teachers do what four have been doing. Then again we ought to be able somehow to combine the two schools in West Granville and make one teacher do all the work. I urge that the subject be carefully studied at once.

SCHOOL PROPERTY

We have been bothered in a petty manner this year by people entering or destroying school buildings when classes were not in session. I presume for the most part no harm was meant, and no great damage was done and that the disturbers did not realize they were doing anything very wrong. Therefore I am taking this opportunity to state that there is a state law covering such offenses, which calls for a fine of $500 or a years imprisonment. Everyone must realize that they are laying themselves open to trouble when they break this law.

IN CONCLUSION

In concluding I wish to ask all citizens to be frank in criticizing my work in Granville, and I promise to try to correct any errors they may point out. Thus far I have enjoyed my position and want to thank all for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID J. MALCOLM,

Superintendent of Schools.

BUT THE BEST PAYING INVESTMENT

The figures are from "A World-Wide Law," by Charles W. Dabney, and are for 1899. The figures for 1909 show the same facts. Estimates based on the total productions recorded in the 1910 census reports show a per capita production for Massachusetts of $466, for Tennessee of $174, and for the United States as a whole $332.

EDUCATION INCREASES PRODUCTIVE POWER

MASSACHUSETTS GAVE HER CITIZENS 7 YEARS' SCHOOLING

THE UNITED STATES GAVE HER CITIZENS 4.4 YEARS' SCHOOLING

TENNESSEE GAVE HER CITIZENS 3 YEARS' SCHOOLING

MASSACHUSETTS CITIZENS PRODUCED PER CAPITA $260 PER YEAR

CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES PRODUCED PER CAPITA $170 PER YEAR

TENNESSEE CITIZENS PRODUCED PER CAPITA $116 PER YEAR

IT PAYS THE STATE TO EDUCATE

The figures in this chart are from "A World-Wide Law," by Charles W. Dabney, and are for 1899. The figures would be much higher for all in 1909, but the relative standing of each would be the same. The production for 1909 as estimated from the figures given by the 1910 census, would be: Massachusetts $466, the United States as a whole $332, Tennessee $174.

School Committee's Report

To the Citizens of Granville:

The School Committee herewith present their annual report:

David J. Malcolm, superintendent of our schools for three years, resigned in November to accept the superintendency of schools in another district.

During the month of December the office of superintendent has been vacant.

The vacancy has been filled by the election of W. H. Sanderson. Mr. Sanderson has been in charge of the Chester schools for fourteen years. He assumed his work in this district early in January.

It will be noticed the expenditure for repairs on the school buildings has been slight. On account of the advanced cost of all materials, repairs have been omitted. It will be poor economy to put them off much longer if the buildings are to be kept even in fair condition.

School Committee.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

JANUARY 1 TO DECEMBER 1, 1919.

To the Citizens and School Committee of Granville, greetings:

Herewith is submitted my fourth annual report which is the twenty-ninth report of the superintendents.

My term of office as superintendent of schools in Granville ended on December 1, 1919, three years to a day from the date I took up the work. I resigned to take up similar work in the Hinsdale district where I thought financial opportunities were slightly better than those I was enjoying in Granville, but I knew my work could not be more agreeable. In this report I am going to try to give you a brief review of my term of office.

In November 1916 only one teacher in Granville was a Normal School Graduate. In November 1919, all but one were Normal Graduates. In 1916 the average salary was about $10 a week or $360 a year. Three years later it was almost $725, almost doubled.

In brief we have made a consistent effort to get better trained teachers and have tried to pay them accordingly. During this time we have spent very little money on unnecessary supplies and have confined our expenditures almost entirely to writing materials, not because we thought supplies for handicraft work lacked value, but because we thought most of our teachers had about all they could do to teach the essential subjects, an old-fashioned theory I know, but nevertheless to my mind more or less sound. We spent very little money on textbooks except where it was absolutely necessary. Except for a few supplementary readers we made only two new adoptions during the three years. One was a new set of English books, the other spellers. In short our motto has been

"Be not the first to try the new,

"Not yet the last to cast off the old"

I hope my successor in office will find our policy was sound and will agree with me that the schools of Granville are just about like the average rural schools throughout the state, better than many, but not all as good as the best.

I want to congratulate the district upon securing Mr. Saunderson for a superintendent. He is a man of wide experience in a district very much like Granville and knows our needs and people, a qualification most men lack. He is spoken of very highly by schoolmen throughout this end of the state. I urge you to be as honest and as patient with him as you were with me, to tell him frankly if you agree or disagree with his work, and then I am sure he will be able to give you the kinds of schools you want.

In closing I want to thank the people of Granville for the generous patience with which they helped me, and I hope that some few may remember my term of office with some slight degree of favor. If this should happen, I shall not feel I have failed entirely as your superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID J. MALCOLM,
Superintendent of Schools until Dec. 1, 1919.

Report of the Work of the Hampden County Improvement League in Granville, 1919

The Hampden County Improvement League is now a public institution directed by the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture. The town of Granville contributes toward its support through the appropriation made to the League by the County Commissioners, which is paid from the county tax. The League is working for the interests of every city and town in Hampden county and its activities are vital to every community. A definite statement of what it has done in Granville is in order.

The League organized the fruit by-products plant which has put in operation this year to utilize the second grade and waste apples and other fruits which would otherwise bring only a small return to the growers. Equipment was secured to make a start on utilizing these fruits and it is expected that further equipment will be secured to make it possible to manufacture fruit butters, pie filling, and other products which command a good price and a ready sale. The organization of this plant will not only bring substantially higher prices to the fruit growers for a considerable part of their crop, but it will result in a new industry and new employment for the people of the town.

Through its work with the New England Milk Producers' Association, the League has been of direct benefit to every dairyman in the county. Better prices have been secured for all dairy products and the marketing conditions have been stabilized and improved materially. Granville farmers will be benefited directly through the organization of the Farmers' co-operative milk plant in Westfield through the work of the League. This plant will furnish Westfield with a uniformly high grade of pasteurized milk, handled in the most sanitary and economical manner. Farmers who sell their milk through this plant will be assured of a year-round market for all the milk they can produce. All surplus milk will be handled without being turned back to the farmers. A standard price will be maintained. Through the elimination of duplication in delivery and simplification of collection, costs will be reduced and the farmers will get more for their milk, while Westfield consumers will have a much higher grade of milk supply.

The development of the co-operative milk plant offers a new possibility for Montgomery farmers to market their milk under satisfactory conditions within their own control. Through the higher quality of the milk supply the consumption of milk in Westfield will be increased and the farmers in nearby towns will receive a decided stimulation to produce more milk, because of the greater financial returns and the more satisfactory marketing conditions which will prevail.

The League was instrumental in organizing the Farmers' Co-operative market in Springfield. This will insure Granville farmers a new opportunity to sell their farm products at prices substantially higher than they would otherwise receive. The market offers an unlimited opportunity to develop a profitable direct to the consumer business.

The League is the guiding force in the Westfield farm loan association, operating under the Federal Farm Land bank system. This will give the farmers of Granville an opportunity to secure loans on terms which are much more desirable than under the old system of personal mortgages, held locally. The county agent serves as secretary and treasurer of the association, which has granted 40 loans totaling $79,800. Several of these loans have been secured by Granville farmers.

Through the potato plot demonstrations, carried on in several towns in the county, Granville farmers had an opportunity to compare the yields of northern grown and home grown potato seed stock. Three of these plots were in Granville. The average increased return ranged from $100 to $125 an acre.

The county agent has given information on farm management problems, on crops, feeds and feeding of stock, marketing various crops, long and short term loans and various other farm problems, to individual farmers who have asked for such help.

Through its health campaign, and in other ways the home making department of the League has reached many homes in Granville. Assistance was given five rural schools in serving warm lunches for the children at noon. One demonstration of food preparation, one on food preservation, one on home care of the sick and one on preparation of salads were given by representatives of the department. A stereopticon lecture on the fly menace was given. Two meetings for help in home making of millinery were held. Besides these meetings a clothing thrift class was organized with five Granville women as members. These classes will be continued as long as Granville women show an interest. These clothing classes are based upon problems of health but the members receive practical assistance in drafting patterns, cutting and fitting garments and in the elimination of much unnecessary work.

Through the wide publicity given the general health campaign many Granville homes have been reached indirectly. Better care of the teeth, proper feeding of children and the milk educational campaign were presented in ways which will have a lasting effect.

One of the important pieces of work done by the league was the series of pruning meetings held by the horticultural adviser in the fall, in which demonstrations of pruning on various ages and conditions of trees were given and discussions of general fruit growing were held.

The boys' and girls' club work was continued with help for the gardeners, pig and poultry raisers given by a paid local supervisor supplemented by visits from the county and state leaders, and help for the canners and young home makers given by a paid leader with similar assistance from the county leaders.

Granville offers a large opportunity for a substantial development of these and various other lines of work in which the League can assist. The staff of trained experts in agriculture, fruit growing, home making and boys' and girls' leadership, is at the service of every family in the town. The service of the League covers everything that pertains to the home, the farm or the community welfare. With the hearty support of Granville's citizens a material extension of the work and much greater results will be possible.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of Granville:—

I herewith submit for your consideration and for the consideration of the citizens of Granville, the thirtieth annual report of the superintendent of schools.

GOOD SCHOOLS

There are at least three essential requirements for establishing, maintaining and improving a system of good public schools.

1. There must be good teachers, intelligent, well-trained, and progressive. There has never been a sufficient supply of such teachers. This class has always been able to choose the more attractive and desirable places, especially after a year or two of experience. At present there are so few teachers of any kind in the market that all over the country the less satisfactory types of schools can hardly get any teachers at all. The education of our children is so vital a matter, and the situation is so serious, that nation-wide movements are on foot to increase the wages paid teachers; to provide modern, centralized schools, as far as possible; and to furnish suitable homes for the teachers, in order to increase the supply of those who are qualified and efficient.

2. There must be an ample supply of good text books and suitable material for carrying on the daily work of the schools, and these things must be available for use. As well employ skilled workmen in any other line of industry and then equip them with old and broken tools and insufficient material, as to expect teachers to do good work with a scanty supply of worn-out dirty books and inadequate provision in the way of pencils, paper, etc. An inspection of the outlay of any town or city shows that the cost providing books and supplies is an insignificant fraction of the whole expense of running the schools. Children should be trained in habits of neatness, care, and economy, and should be held strictly responsible for their use of town property, and teachers should check wastefulness and lawlessness, but liberality and not frugality should be the policy in the provision of books and supplies for the schools.

3. There must be comfortable and modern school buildings, furnished with the facilities which research and experience have shown to be essential for the health and convenience of those who are sent there to work. We are living in the age of the electric light and the automobile. Modern school equipment has kept pace with the equipment of our homes and our industries—the lighting, the heating, the toilets, the grounds, the architecture of the buildings are all subjects about which much has been said and much has been done. The schools of our grandfathers' day are, for better or for worse, out of date today.

It is possible for progressive school officials to make good such deficiencies as may exist in the equipment of the schools. The same spirit of progress could, in a few years, without unreasonable cost, make the school buildings of Granville worthy habitations for twentieth century schools.

In the matter of even moderately well-trained and efficient teachers, the problem is much more difficult. From the teacher's point of view none of our schools are extremely desirable positions. If we are to make the schools of Granville really educational institutions, if we are to maintain schools at all in the remote districts, there must be, on the part of the communities, a realization of existing conditions and an understanding of the necessity of their hearty co-operation and support. The "best people" must open their homes as boarding places for the teachers, even at the cost of personal bother, and the young woman who has given up her home and friends for service with our children must feel she has the sympathy and appreciation of those whom she is trying to serve.

We cannot bring our schools nearer railroad lines, the trolley, and the centers of population, but perhaps we can make up for this disadvantage so that our teachers appreciate that Granville is an unusually pleasant place in which to teach, and they carry this reputation of us abroad to influence other teachers whom we may like to employ.

EXISTING CONDITIONS

An extreme shortage of teachers continues to exist the country over, and will continue for some years to come, until teaching conditions improve so that more capable young people are willing to fit themselves for teaching and more of those who undertake the work feel encouraged to continue in it.

The U. S. Commissioner of Education in his report just issued states that between 300,000 and 400,000 children in the United States are at present deprived of schooling because no teachers can be obtained. He says that for the coming year from 110,000 to 150,000 new teachers will be needed, while the total output of the training schools will not exceed 30,000. The special commission, appointed by Gov. Coolidge to consider the teacher situation in Massachusetts reports along the same line. They say that next year practically 2,000 new teachers will be needed in the State, while the Massachusetts normal schools, colleges, and private training schools are not likely to provide more than half that number.

Both reports say there is only one remedy for the existing condition, and that is increased wages, especially in the rural communities. The Massachusetts commission reports a bill to the present session of the General Court, increasing the wages of all teachers $150, the State to assume the payment of this sum.

No amount of wages, however, can make more than 80,000 trained teachers out of nothing for the coming year. What advantages communities can offer will be a large factor in determining what schools will find themselves equipped with efficient teachers next September.

CONTRACTS

The following is the form of contract, made with all teachers employed this year:

.....Mass.,19..

.....

The School Committee have elected you a teacher in the .....School, Grade.....for a school

If you are ready to perform your part of this contract, there will be no reduction in your salary for any part of the above mentioned school year which is not completed by July 1, 19...

The committee make the resolutions adopted by the New England Association of School Superintendents the basis of their contracts with teachers, and require you to agree to the following conditions:—

1. Not to leave your position until you served in it at least one year, unless you have made it a condition of acceptance that you may leave at any time after proper notice.

2. Not to leave your position at any time whatever, without giving a notice of four weeks.

3. Not to leave your position within four weeks before the beginning of the fall term, nor during the first or last month of the school year.

Your salary will be $....., paid in ten equal monthly installments.

You are requested to send your acceptance of the position to which you have been elected under the provisions stated, on or before.....and to signify your intention of remaining during the school year. If notice of your acceptance is not received as above, the position will be considered vacant.

By order of the School Committee

Keep the upper half sheet, answer below, and forward to W. H. Sanderson, Granville, Mass.

This contract protects both the town and the teachers, and thus far has saved us from the many embarrassing resignations from which the schools suffered last year.

THE TEACHERS

Our schools, last year, in common with many others, suffered from the scarcity of teachers. At the close of the fall term the teachers employed at Ore Hill and at the South Lane school gave up their positions. The district at that time was without a superintendent and the committee did what was probably the only feasible thing to do: they transferred Miss Dole from Beech Hill to the Ore Hill school, where she taught the year before; engaged Mrs. Porter Frisbie, a former efficient teacher in the South Lane school, to take charge of that school temporarily; closed the Center school, where there were but four pupils; transferred the teacher, Miss Richter, to Beech Hill; and transported the Center children to Granville village.

Miss Richter was what is called an appreciate teacher, from Lowell normal school, and, under the agreement with that school, was to go back to her studies for the spring term, and the normal school was to send another apprentice to take her place. At the close of the winter term we were notified that no one could be sent to take Miss Richter's place. Mrs. Frisbie, also, was obliged to give up the South Lane school. No teacher could be found for either of these positions. The Stow school, where there were but five pupils, was closed, and arrangements made for transporting the children attending there, to other schools. The teacher from the Stow school was transferred to Beech Hill. The South Lane school remained closed throughout the spring term.

In June resignations were received from all but one of the teachers in the employ of the town. The vacancies were filled as follows:—Miss Dora E. Dodge of Gloucester was engaged for the Beech Hill school, Miss Charlotte V. Madeiros of Edgartown for North Lane, Miss Florence E. Gould of Danvers for South Lane, Miss Viola E. Bettinger of Westfield for the Village, grades 1-5, and Miss Marybelle Breault of Mellenville, N. Y. for the Village, grades 6-9.

Miss Dodge is a graduate of Gloucester high school and Gloucester Teachers Training school, and has had several years of successful experience in country schools. Miss Madeiros is a graduate of Edgartown high school and Hyannis normal school, and Miss Gould is a graduate of Danvers high school and Salem normal school; both are teaching their first schools. Miss Bettinger is a graduate of Westfield high school and Westfield normal school. Miss Breault is a graduate of Stockbridge high school and Westfield normal school; both have a record of successful teaching before coming here.

I am free to state that none of these teachers is perfect. They are all human beings, just like the rest of us. They are apt to make mistakes both in taking care of themselves and in directing others. But all have received special training for their work, all come to us with good records of scholarship and character, and I believe all are trying to deserve to be classed as successful teachers.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S TRAVELING EXPENSES

The last State Legislature passed a law which went into effect July 1, increasing the minimum salary of superintendents in superintendency unions, and requiring the unions to pay traveling expenses of the superintendent while in the discharge of his duties. It was not the intent of the law to increase, materially, the expense of supervision to the unions, for the State assumed practically all the additional outlay.

For instance, under the old law, the State reimbursed this union $1,250 for the payment of the superintendent's salary. Under the new law the State reimbursement to this district will be about $2,000. Unless the salary and traveling expenses of the superintendent amount to practically $3,200, the district outlay under the new law will be less than it was under the old.

IN CLOSING

I wish to express my appreciation of the assistance which the schools constantly receive from the school committee.

A position on the school board in a country town is, at best, a somewhat thankless task. There is practically no financial compensation, there is generally even less credit and appreciation from the public, and there is no political honor whatever connected with the work. No man, busy with his own affairs, can give efficient service on the school board without personal loss in more than one direction. That town is indeed fortunate where men of his class are willing to submit to the inevitable personal disadvantage, in order that there may be wise provision for the education of the children.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. SANDERSON

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF HAMPDEN COUNTY IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE, 1920

To the Voters of Granville:

By vote of town meeting, Granville appropriated $200 for 1920 and reappropriated $100 carried forward from the year 1919 to the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture, a public body of nine trustees appointed by the county commissioners to have legal jurisdiction over the "extension work" of the Hampden County Improvement League in "agriculture, home-making, and country life."

What has the League done for Granville?

Records of field activities, recently started at the League offices, show that in the 60 working days between October 1 and December 10, staff members made ten visits to Granville. On this basis it is conservative to estimate between 30 and 50 such visits during the course of the year.

The clothing specialist of the League, Miss Alice B. Knowlton, spent eight half-days with two clothing efficiency groups formed by 11 women of Granville. These groups have met independently since and are passing on the lessons gained to other women unable to attend the group meetings. Each woman attending these groups studied not only how to make clothes, but the relationship between good health, good posture, and the making and wearing of attractive garments. Each woman made at least three garments modeled on lines that emphasized health, attractiveness, common-sense, and economy.

Four of the 16 Hampden County 1920 Baby Beef Club members, who made an average profit of more than $40 through bringing into condition western "feeders" during the late spring and early summer, were in Granville receiving frequent visits from county club leader, Otis E. Hall. This work is valuable not only as agricultural education on the home farm, but as a contest in live stock raising on a county-wide basis calling attention to the possibilities of beef production in this county, and as a business venture for the boys engaged in it. In the county three times as many boys and girls are enrolled for the 1921 baby beef club and are now in possession of their beeves, which this year they will carry through the winter as well as through the spring and summer, selling them at auction at the Eastern States Exposition next fall.

On November 27 at Blandford, there were organized two Hampden County Sheep Clubs, one in Blandford and one in Granville. These clubs were father-son clubs, each team receiving five bred ewes, the purchasing price being arranged on a business basis through a loan at a bank. There are five father-son teams in the town of Granville in this club and now in possession of their sheep. Just as the beef clubs have significance in determining whether it will be profitable to introduce the beef industry in this county, so the sheep clubs have importance in determining whether the sheep industry should be revived.

The county home demonstration agent, Miss Minnie Price, held individual conferences with a number of Granville housewives during the past year. At least one more home in the town is now completely equipped with electric lights and power driven labor-saving equipment. Miss Price also held conferences with Superintendent of Schools Sanderson concerning the methods of providing for the efficient warm school lunch work which is now under way. There is a possibility of extending such work and making it part of the League's county-wide educational program in nutrition, although this possibility for Granville has not yet been worked out.

In the spring, County Agent Clinton J. Grant and County Horticultural Agent William H. Wolff gave considerable time to the possibility of organizing an apple by-products plant in Granville, through which apple growers of the town might cooperate to make larger profits on the lower grades of their crop. This work involved a number of meetings as well as a census of the apple trees of the town. Much interest was shown and considerable part of the money necessary to launch this business venture was subscribed, but the railroad embargo on agricultural machinery, together with bad labor conditions, made it seem inadvisable to push the plan to conclusion during the past year. This project, therefore, is in abeyance but has by no means been abandoned.

Such a project, if carried through, would be simply one more evidence in Hampden County of the value of cooperative business effort on the part of farmers in marketing their crops under conditions which they can control. Evidence of the possibility of better business for farmers, through such cooperative effort, is not wanting in Hampden County as a result of the League's work largely through the League's county agent, Mr. Grant. The various "locals" of the New England Milk Producers' Association, united to bargain collectively for the delivery of their dairy products; the Hampden County Farmers' Exchange, wherein farmers buy in groups to effect savings; the Hampden County Tobacco Warehouse and the Cooperative Milk

Plant at Westfield, through which farmers are able to sell their produce more effectively than in the past; and the Cooperative Farmers' Market in Springfield, where producer and consumer are brought together for direct buying and selling—these enterprises affect every farmer in the County, if not directly, at least to the extent of furnishing local testimony that farmers can and will work together and benefit thereby.

A piece of work of considerable importance, in which the League shared, and which was carried directly into the town of Granville was the farm bureau membership drive by which 50 or more farm families in Granville, and more than 800 in the county, were brought into a local farmers' body, proposing to conduct a local program of benefit to Hampden County agriculture and to affiliate nationally with the economic, educational, and legislative program of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

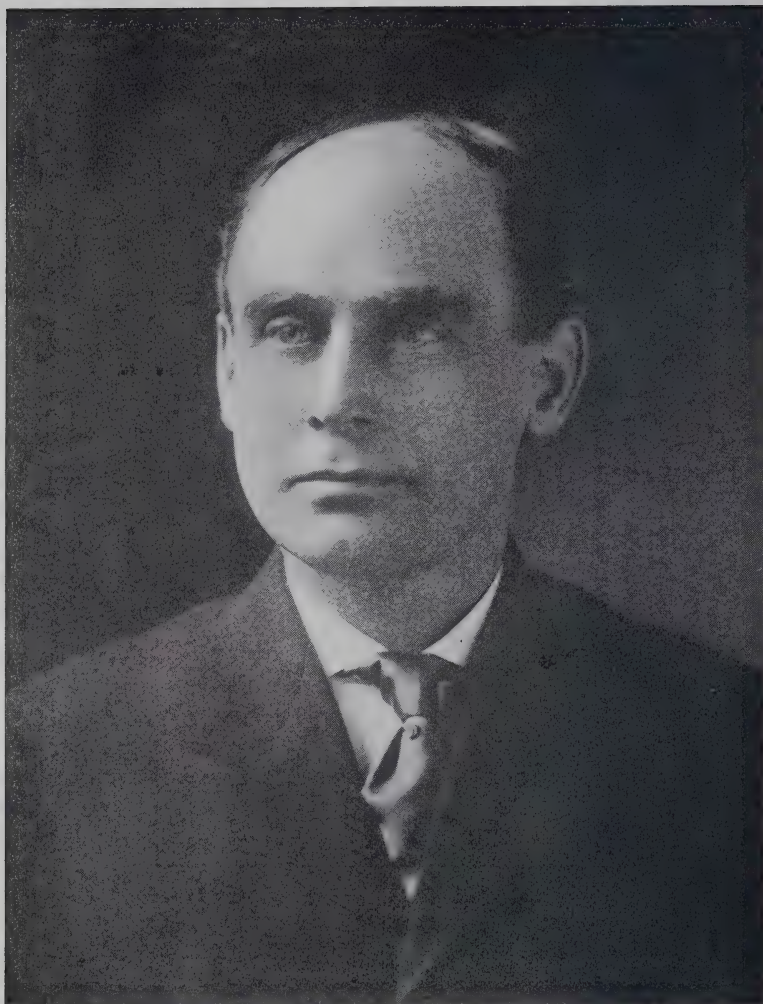

Other League activities in 1920, which touch Granville vitally, include the development of the news information service through Russell R. Lord, Assistant Manager of the League, carrying, for example, 476 items of farm and home interest to all readers of Springfield newspapers in 100 days between July 23 and November 1, which is at the rate of 1500 such items in the year; and the publication under Mr. Lord's editorship of the "Hampden", a monthly magazine of news and useful information; the county-wide effort for live stock betterment among farmers and farm boys and girls; and the constant growth and usefulness of the League offices, 244 Main Street, Springfield, as an information center regarding farm and home questions, brought to its attention by letter, telephone, or personal visitation.

On behalf of the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture and of the Hampden County Improvement League, I am glad to present this report of work done in Granville in 1920 and to ask for a continuance of direct support by town appropriation. A fuller printed report of the League's activities for 1920 has been mailed to every member, and is available on request to the League office by anyone who is interested.

Mr. L. B. Dickinson has been director for 1920 and has been re-elected for the year 1921.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSCOE C. EDLUND, General Manager.

ORVILLE R. NOBLE

Orville R. Noble

Born November 23, 1861. Died September 6, 1921

It seems fitting that the Town of Granville should, in its annual report for the year, pay tribute the memory of one who has passed on from our midst, never to return, and to offer our heartfelt sympathy to the family. While the earthly form of our beloved and esteemed fellow townsman, Orville R. Noble, has gone from our sight, the memory of him as a citizen, as a friend, as a real man in the truest sense of the word, will never forsake us.

It is true that life has few sadder experiences than the dissolving of friendship. Especially is this true when an individual is taken from us whose life has been an inspiration to a community like ours. It is a tragic event but we console ourselves with the thought that it is the fond belief of mankind that friends will some time meet again.

Mr. Noble's life was one of service. In his quiet, efficient way he was always ready to respond to calls for aid whether it be for an individual, his community, his State or his Country. He gave generously of his time and money with never a thought of personal gain.

His life was spent in Granville where, as one of the owners of the Noble & Cooley drum shop, he commanded the respect of people in all walks of life. He met them on common ground—their interests were his interests. While personally he never cared to hold public office, yet the affairs of Granville were close to his heart.

Possessed of an excellent education, being a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology of Boston, he early developed a keen insight into business and financial affairs and for 30 years he served as a Director of the Hampden National Bank of our neighboring City of Westfield. Mr. Noble was not much of a lodge man, being devoted to his home affairs, but he was connected with Mount Moriah Lodge of Masons and of Evening Star, Royal Arch Chapter, in Westfield.

"From the day when first we start,
Each in life to play his part,
Till we reach that perfect peace
Where all toil and care shall cease,
Fate can nothing better send
Than a true and loyal friend."

REPORT OF WORK DONE ON GRANVILLE ROADS FOR YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 1, 1921

With the exception of a few back roads, all of the roads were given a good scraping in the spring. The culverts were opened, and ditches and waterways opened and cleaned.

A large amount of stone was removed throughout the town; roads were widened to make new ditches; new outlets were made; and a large number of mudholes were gravelled.

The Main Road was scraped and dragged three times from end to end.

The Wildcat, North Lane No. 1, Old Westfield Roads, Lake stree, Silver, and Water Streets, and Granby Road were all dragged or scraped three times during the year.

About 500 ft. of gravel was put on Lake Street in various places. As this work was done in the early spring before I entered this town, I have nothing definite to report as to where it is located.

The Main Road in East Granville was top dressed with gravel 200 ft. x 15 ft. x 8 in. about half way between the Southwich Line and where Lake Street intersects Main Road.

A section of stone fill 450 ft. x 15 ft. x 24 in. was covered with gravelled 6 in. on Main Road in West Granville between where North Lane No. 2 and South Lane No. 2 intersect Main Road. A culvert 20 ft. x 18 in. was installed on this piece of road.

Old Westfield Road, 450 ft. x 10 ft. x 6 in. and 175 ft. x 10 ft. x 6 in. was gravelled in both places, both located between Farnum Road where it intersects road nearest to Main Road and Cross Road No. 3, about 300 feet between these two pieces. Also a piece 100 ft. x 12 ft. x 6 in., located about one quarter of a mile from Westfield Line on the Old Westfield Road was gravelled.

On North Lane No. 1, two pieces of road were gravelled, 50 ft. x 12 ft. x 6 in. and 150 ft. x 12 ft. x 6 in", both of these located about half way between Old Westfield Road and where Wildcat Road intersects, about 300 feet between these two pieces.

Culverts were installed on the following roads: Wildcat 1, North Lane No. 1, 1; Old Westfield 3, Main Road 6, Walter St. 3, Cross St. 1.

Brush was cut on the following roads: Main 1½ miles; South Lane No. 1, 1 mile; Old Westfield Road 1 mile in short pieces; No. Lane No. 1, 1 mile; total 4½ miles in length from 4 ft. to 8 ft. wide on each side of the road.

SPECIAL WORK—SMALL TOWN ACT

Under Mr. Bingham

On Granby Road stone fill 1550 ft. x 15 ft. x 12 in. was covered with gravel 8 in. deep; 3 new culverts were installed located near East Granville where 700 ft. contour line crosses road twice within a short distance. The money for this piece of road comes from the Town and County and R. B. Cooley.

There is a large quantity of ledge and stone to remove on the Main Road; several pieces of stone fill to be covered; new culverts to be installed and resurfacing to be done on Main Roads.

Any money left should be used to improve the Main Road through West Granville to the Tolland Line.

School Committee

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS' REPORT

To the School Committee of Granville:—

I herewith submit for your consideration and for the consideration of the citizens of Granville, the thirty-first annual report of the superintendent of schools.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT

The maintenance of a system of public schools involves both administrative and supervisory work,—it includes not only the selection and direction of the teacher employed, but also the provision of up-to-date school buildings, text books, and equipment.

I have no desire either to praise or to blame the policy of the school management in the past, but only to call attention to what should be done in the future.

There has been, without doubt, careful attention bestowed upon the selection of the teachers and the supervision of their work. The schools are well organized, and the teachers are working along modern and progressive lines as far as existing limitations will allow.

The administrative lines of work have, apparently, received much less attention. Schools should be provided with adequate and modern text books in sufficient quantity, with maps, reference books, and supplies of supplementary and illustrative material. Door mats, clocks, waste baskets, etc., are necessities. The last twenty-five years have seen great changes in school buildings and school grounds, even in rural communities. Illustrations of types of modern one-room buildings are available from all over the country.

Some one has said, "A schoolhouse should not be a blot on the landscape for those who view it from the outside, nor a place of unhygienic desolation for those who have to inhabit the inside of it." A school building is a public building, and its architecture and surroundings should be worthy of the public whose taste of civilization it represents.

The inside of the modern rural school building pays attention to the eyesight of the children by a proper adjustment of the lighting; it provides desks that can be adjusted to the height of the children, so they are not obliged to sit in cramped and unhealthful positions; it is heated by a wood or coal furnace in the basement, thus removing the litter and dirt of the stove from the school room, giving more floor space for school activities, and doing away with the freezing of those in the back of the room while those in the front are roasting, saving, also, the loss of time on cold days when the children clutter about the stove for half the forenoon and all profitable school labor comes to a standstill.

The filthy immoral outside privy, with its menace to health and decency, makes no part of the modern rural school. There are half a dozen different kinds of chemical and septic-tank systems, intended for rural schools, which progressive communities are installing, and which give to the country school the same privacy and convenience, and the same sanitation as are enjoyed by those who live where there are sewers and a city water system.

There should be no decrease in the endeavor to maintain and improve the quality of the teaching and the educational standards, represented by plans of work and courses of study, but there should be a decided increase in the attention paid to these other essentials of a twentieth century school.

Skillful and wisely directed teaching is an important factor in the school education of a child, but it is not all there is to it; school environment is a factor, too, and sets a standard for civic pride and civic duty, and for wholesome American citizenship.

To bring our school buildings and school equipment up to the standard set for the strictly teaching work of our schools is not the work of a day.

A few things have already been done:—All the schools have been provided with window curtains, door mats, and waste baskets; all the text books of the town have been listed, and new books have been bought as far as needed to equip the classes; the inside of the two rooms of the village school and the North Lane school room have been painted, the walls a light tan with slightly darker woodwork; new doors have been bought for South Lane; and at Beech Hill a new outside door has been furnished and a new floor of narrow maple flooring has been laid.

This is not much, but it is a beginning; and a good beginning, followed up, means successful accomplishments at the end.

THE GENERAL SCHOOL FUND

This is the third year since a complete change was made in the plan for distributing state aid to the smaller towns for the support of their schools. The last year the old plan was in force Granville received $965. For the year ending Dec. 31, 1921, our claim for state aid amounts to $3,302.

Under the present plan the amount Granville receives is allotted to the specific items of teachers' wages, transportation of pupils to the elementary schools, and to text books, supplies, etc.; and is largely determined by what we pay out, and, in the case of teachers, by their training and experience, as well.

We have paid, the past year, $752 for the transportation of pupils to our own schools; the state will pay us one-third of this sum, or $251.

The state will pay us the coming year $500 towards the operating expenses of our schools; this is more than has sometimes been expended in a year for text books, supplies, fuel, janitors' service, and fuel put together.

Towards the teachers' wages at Beech Hill, the state will pay $415; North Lane, $413; Ore Hill, $450; South Lane, $373; Village Primary, $450; Village Grammar, $450. The sums paid by the state to help Granville secure and retain qualified teachers is more than the entire wages ordinarily paid teachers in rural schools less than a dozen years ago.

These increased payments by the state for specific purposes mark a decisive attempt to raise the standard of the schools in the smaller towns by making possible a living wage for the teachers, by contributing liberally towards an adequate school equipment, and by paying one-third of the cost of transportation to encourage these towns to unite their smaller schools and transport the children.

SCHOOL NURSES

The General Court passed a law at its last session providing for the employment of nurses in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

While the State Department of Education may exempt towns like Granville from the provisions of this act, it is their wish that all the towns comply with the law.

The scarcity of properly trained health nurses, lack of knowledge of the assistance these nurses can render in the schools of a sparsely settled community, the question of transportation, and the question of compensation, all make compliance with the law seem a difficult matter for towns like Granville. The Hampden Co. Tuberculosis and Health Association, however, are willing to provide us with the services of one of their trained nurses for one day in a month for a nominal sum. This nurse will provide her own transportation, will visit the schools when automobile travel is practicable, and will charge only for days actually spent in our service.

This offer will enable us to comply with the law under most favorable conditions of service and expense, and will meet the approval of the State Department of Education.

THE TEACHERS

During the school year from September to June there were only two changes in our corps of teachers.

On account of extreme dissatisfaction with the teacher on the part of the community, and extreme dissatisfaction with the community on the part of the teacher, Miss Gould of the South Lane school was released from her contract with the town, March 1, and the school was taught for the remainder of the school year by Robert F. Morrison of Lee.

Miss Dodge of Beech Hill was married at Christmas time and at the close of the winter term asked to be released from her school. Her request was granted, and Miss Maude Smith of Blandford was engaged to finish the school.

Mr. Morrison is a graduate of the Catholic University, and Miss Smith of West Springfield high school. Neither had any special training for teaching nor any experience; both proved capable and rendered better service than could reasonably be expected.

In June Miss Breault of the Village Grammar school gave up her position.

The following teachers were engaged to fill the vacancies:—For Beech Hill, Miss Ora I. Lees of Shelburne Falls, who received her training at North Adams normal school and has taught for ten years; for South Lane, Miss Catherine C. Vienot of Unionville, Conn., a graduate of Collinsville high school with three years of teaching experience; for the Village Grammar, Miss Lempie M. Kallio of Middlefield, a graduate of Springfield high school and North Adams normal school with three years of teaching experience.

Our present corps of teachers are above the average in efficiency and I think it is highly desirable to retain their services.

IN CLOSING

To provide for the education of the children of Granville is the most important public duty the citizens of Granville are called upon to perform. The schools call upon the citizens for the exercise of their best intelligence and for unselfish devotion to the interests of the town and of the Commonwealth.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. SANDERSON,

Superintendent of Schools.

HAMPDEN COUNTY IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE REPORT, 1921 AND REPORT OF TRUSTEES FOR COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE, 1921

January 12, 1922.

To the Voters of Granville:

For 1921 Granville appropriated $200 to the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture, a board of nine men and women appointed by the county commissioners of Hampden County to conduct the county extension service in co-operating with the Massachusetts Agricultural College and the United States Department of Agriculture. In Hampden County the extension service has the backing and support, financially and in many other ways, of the Hampden County Improvement League with which is also affiliated the county Farm Bureau. This report is a statement of this co-operative work of the year as it affects Granville.

The activities of the extension service are conducted mainly along the following lines:

Agriculture, directed by the county agricultural agent, Joseph H. Bodwell.

Horticulture, directed by the county horticultural agent, William H. Wolff.

Home-Making, directed (until recently) by the county home demonstration agent, Miss Minnie Price, and her assistant, Miss Alice B. Knowlton, clothing specialist. Beginning February 1, 1922, Miss Lillian M. Stuart will be home demonstration agent.

Junior Club Work, directed by the county club leader, Otis E. Hall, assisted by Miss Flora M. Miller, temporarily.

During the year, Mr. Bodwell gave 19 days of field service in Granville, Mr. Wolff 14 days, Mr. Hall and Miss Miller 9 1-2 days, Miss Price and Miss Knowlton 3 days, a total of 45 1-2 days of staff service given especially to Granville. Work has been done as follows:

Dairy: Dairy club group held five meetings with five in club. Joseph Dickinson, chairman of group.

Extension School: Four day school in January on many agricultural and home subjects, with 8 leaders from League staff and Massachusetts Agricultural College; average attendance 28.

Farm Bureau: Farm Bureau meeting to plan program and elect officers. Also a Farm Bureau picnic with 75 present.

Potatoes: Peter Hendrickson, Project Leader. Two meetings at his place; total attendance 12.

Poultry: Culling meeting at William H. Hansen's farm; 35 present. Killing meeting at W. H. Hansen's farm; 11 present. Caponizing demonstration meeting at Bernice Dickinson's; 21 present. Building poultry house meeting at Mr. Joseph Dickinson's place; 16 present. Joseph Dickinson, project leader.

Sheep: Three demonstrations in control of worms and modula disease. Twelve members (six teams of boys and girls and their fathers) in Granville Sheep Club.

Berries: Began artificial propagation and culture of blueberries with Edward Jensen.

Orchards: Suggested to Granville farmers to make their own concentrated lime sulphur spray. Supervised the making of 800 gallons. Suggested the home fruit tree nurseries. Six have been started. Gave advice through Mr. Hansen, fruit project leader, relative to seasonal spraying.

Canning: One day institute led by Professor W. R. Cole of Massachusetts Agricultural College. Nine girls in the "Granville Hustlers" with Miss Flora M. Miller, assistant county club leader, acting as leader, and helped by Miss Viola E. Bettinger, school teacher. Good exhibit at end of season. Won fourth prize at Eastern States Exposition for 100-jar exhibit.

Clothing: Three clothing efficiency groups in Granville under the leadership of Mrs. M. S. Gill.

Nutrition: Miss Price talked on diet at Granville's "Health Day."

Baby Beef: Lester Treat in Western Hampden Club.

Estimated value of products raised by the children is $891.61, not including $36 in prizes won at the Eastern States Exposition.

In addition to this definite field work in Granville the general county-wide activities of the League, Trustees, and Farm Bureau touch the welfare of every town in the county. These general activities include such work as educational and publicity work carried on through the newspapers and the League's monthly magazine, The Hampden; legislative activities, especially the active support given the bill establishing the state police and the bill creating the standard bushel box measure, both of which became law; market reporting service on wholesale prices (daily) and retail prices (twice a week on food stuffs made possible for eight months through the co-operation of the State Department of Agriculture; the recent establishment of the League's clothing efficiency bureau made up of about one hundred women organized to carry on clothing work in all parts of the county; the exhibits at the Eastern States Exposition of both League and Farm Bureau work which were held for the first time this year and which reached and interested thousands of people from all the towns of the county; and the regular day-by-day service from the office in answering telephone inquiries and office calls and sending out letters and bulletins on a wide range of subjects falling within the field of extension work.

On behalf of the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture and the co-operating organizations, I am glad to present this brief statement of activities in Granville for the year 1921.

Granville has always given splendid support to this work, financially and otherwise. The appropriation of $200 during the past year has been much appreciated, and its renewal during the coming year will be most gratifying to the Trustees.

Mr. L. B. Dickinson has been League director from the town of Granville during the past year and has been re-elected for 1922; Mrs. H. B. Dickinson is Granville representative in the Home-Making Department of the League; and Mr. G. T. Carter has been chairman of the Farm Bureau. Any of these persons will be glad to give further information, and a detailed printed report of the year's work will be mailed to anyone who desires it.

Respectfully submitted,

R. C. EDLUND, Managing Director.

JOSEPH WELCH
PETER HENDRICKSON
HARRY ROOT

Selectmen.

I wish to say a few words on the condition of the roads in West Granville.

The Main road was scraped from the Tolland line to Valley brook, and most of it was dragged two and three times, on East Mountain we put in 460 feet of road, that finished the State contract of 1916.

We also put in 360 feet west of Gilbert M. Willer house, the bed of the road was plowed and scraped down hard pan, large stone were put in the bottom, small stone on top, and this covered with the best material available. Mr. Miller, Albert Sheets and Wm. Cooley furnished the material without cost, two culverts were installed.

North Lane road was scraped twice. There were six culverts installed, brush was cut nearly the length of the road, the material is very poor, mostly loam.

South Lane was scraped from the Main road to the further end, and some of it twice, heavy teaming left it in bad condition, one spot about 200 feet was filled with stone, and covered with gravel, put in two new culverts, it needs several more, and lot of brush should be cut.

Hartland road to the state line, six culverts were installed, a thirty-foot bridge was planked, also a twenty-foot bridge. Stone was taken from the shoulder of the road, and the road made wider, 200 loads of coarse gravel was put on the road in different places, heavy posts have been put in on the river bank for a railing.

West Hartland road was scraped to the state line, three new culverts were installed, a lot of rock was blasted and moved from the Johnson and Brodrit hills, a lot of gravel was drawn from these hills, and they need a lot more, also five culverts.

Chas. Sheets road was scraped to the old Harger place, it needs 2 or 3 new culverts and a lot of brush should be cut, a large deep ditch should be dug on the west side of the road so that the water might drain off.

Beech Hill road, from the main road to the Blandford line, was in very bad condition. It was scraped the whole length, and over Beech Hill twice, also on that end there were three new culverts installed, all the water courses cleaned out, one the south end, 75 loads of gravel were laid, up in the woods a mud hole near Goodniss was filled, 150 feet with stone and covered, the culverts were installed on this end, the brush is cut to the reservoir, this road needs a lot of work done on it.

The road near L. N. Barnes was scraped, three culverts installed, a lot of stone was drawn and covered.

Austin Phelon road was scraped nearly the whole length, this road is in very bad condition, very narrow, with lot of large rocks on the banks and in the ditches, it needs a lot of work done, installed one culvert, needs more.

Chas. Farnham road was scraped the whole length, and the brush was all cut.

The Otis was scraped about half its length, all the brush was cut.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH WELCH.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Granville:

I herewith submit for your consideration and for the consideration of the citizens of Granville, my third annual report, the twentieth report since the organization of this superintendency union.

COST OF THE SCHOOLS

When the total amount expended for the schools in Granville today is compared with the amount annually invested in education here twenty-five years ago, the present outlay seems indeed large; but when we consider the present interest in the public schools throughout the state, in no sense is Granville overtaking itself for the support of its schools.

Advance sheets of the forthcoming report of the State Board of Education place Granville number one hundred among the towns of the State in the amount raised for schools by local taxation on each $1,000 of valuation, and number one hundred two in the amount raised for the education of each pupil—that is, there are ninety-nine towns with a higher school tax rate than Granville, and one hundred one that pay more for the schooling of each child.

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

The State Board of Education enumerates the duties to be discharged by the superintendent of schools as follows:—He shall—

1. Act as the executive officer of the school board.
2. Visit the schools and conduct meetings for the teachers.
3. Nominate teachers, janitors, attendance officers, conveyance officers, and other employees of the school department.
4. Direct the work of all the teachers, janitors, etc., and make recommendations regarding their duties, salaries, election, and dismissal.
5. Inspect all public school buildings and properties of the school department, and make recommendations regarding their repairs and improvement.

6. Examine the plans for new buildings as to the fitness and suitability for school purposes.

7. Purchase text books, supplies, and material, and certify to the correctness of bills.

8. Recommend courses of study and text books to be used in the public schools.

9. Have control of the grading, promotion, and discipline of the pupils.

10. Attend all meetings of the committee except when his own election or salary is under discussion, and participate in the consideration of all questions.

11. Attend meetings and conferences and visit schools in other cities and towns.

12. Assist in the preparation of reports.

Within the last few years practically all the reports required by the State have been put into the hands of the superintendent, and their number and scope have been increased. Some of these requirements are:—two reports annually, made under oath, for each town in the district, with financial and statistical information on which depend financial aid from the state, with our own estimate of what that aid should be; a detailed report for each town, also under oath, to the Department of Vocational Education regarding the employment of minors; reports of the pupils attending high school, with the number of days of actual attendance and the amount paid out by the town for tuition and transportation in each case; a detailed report of the traveling expenses of the superintendent, with the amount of salary and expenses allotted to each town; an annual report to the school committee and citizens of each town with statistical information and the discussion of such matters as may be of interest or profit to the community; reports to the Teachers' Retirement Board, of teachers employed and their salaries, with reports of all changes of teachers with salaries of new teachers and the whereabouts of those who have left the service of the town; answers to lists of questions regarding practices and results in special lines of school activity; opinions and recommendations on matters of proposed new legislation and on modifications of the educational policy of the State.

The presumption of the State is that the superintendent is a person with a liberal education, with some practical knowledge of schools and their needs, and possessed with at least a moderate amount of common sense. The sum and substance of the foregoing "duties" are that the superintendent is expected by the State to devote whatever skill and training he has towards the advancement of education in the Commonwealth, through his work in the town where he is employed. Because of the greater educational needs of the smaller towns, the State pays two thirds of the salary and traveling expenses of superintendents in superintendency unions; the several towns of the district together pay the other third.

In my opinion the superintendent of schools is in no sense the "boss" of the school committee the dictator without whose nod no wheels may move; neither is he their errand boy, the one to whom the committee say go and he goeth, come and he cometh, and do this and he doeth it. He is the expert advisor of the board whose counsel is at their service if they wish it. The superintendent should work harmoniously with the committee if it is possible to do so, and should always yield, without protest, to their judgment when no vital principle is involved.

In dealing with the teachers:—

The superintendent should advise as to the matter and the manner of teaching so far as he feels sure the teacher does not know more about the subject than he does.

He should observe the teacher in her school work, not as a critic looking for something to find fault with, but as one ready to be of service if maybe her efficiency as a teacher can be increased.

He should be loyal to the teacher and stand between her and unjust criticism, sustain in the management and control of her school room, and use extreme care not to discredit her to the overthrowing of her influence, and to the demoralizing, as well, of the community where she is teaching.

If he has any policy to work out, it will fail in every school where he does not have the intelligent co-operation of the teacher—indeed, to secure and retain the service of the teacher who is able and willing to co-operate is no small part of the superintendent's school policy. The teacher who thinks she has learned all there is to know, and the one who is not capable of learning can receive little aid and can, in turn, render but little service.

He cannot teach the schools, nor any one of them. He must be careful to allow the teacher freedom of thought and action. He can accomplish little in his work if he is hampered and restricted at every step. He must allow the teacher the same opportunity which he wishes for himself.

Teachers and school committee and superintendent exist for only one common object—to contribute to more and better service for the children. Schools are not for the glorification and honor of the superintendent, nor to furnish opportunity for the committee to exploit their authority, nor to give places to women who wish for employment, but for nothing else than the education and training of the children.

Every policy or plan that does not tend to maintain or improve the opportunity for this training is a misdirected policy. Every dollar of school money expended that does not directly or indirectly aid this object is money misspent. For a town to withhold from this service money, or opportunity, or care, to the limit, even, of sacrifice, is to rob about the only precious thing the town contains—the children—of the best legacy it is possible to bestow upon them.

During the three years of my stewardship just ended, I have spent no time nor thought in endeavoring to make myself popular, nor have I obediently followed the leadership of anybody else. I have given study to the school situation and the school needs of the town, and have aimed to establish a higher educational standard for the schools and to make possible a better education for the children. I do not intend to boast of what I have achieved. The permanent improvement of the schools of a town does not depend on the ideals, nor the efforts of any one man, but, ultimately, on the community's appreciation of the conditions to be met and their readiness to make application of means to meet those conditions.

Good schools in the town of Granville are dependent on a comparatively permanent corps of capable and well-trained teachers, on suitable and well-equipped buildings, and on an adequate provision of books, supplies, etc. The requisites for efficient schools are in no respect different from the requirements for a manufacturing plant that expects to pay dividends. There must be skilled and efficient workmen who are sufficiently well satisfied with the treatment and wages they receive so that they are willing to stay on the job; the factory buildings must be suited to the work to be done and equipped with modern machinery; and the workmen must be provided with suitable tools and material.

CAPABLE AND WELL-TRAINED TEACHERS

Since the organization of this district in 1903, quite a number of different men have undertaken the superintendency work here. I have been told that in years past the district has had remarkably efficient superintendents. I do not doubt this, but these men have left little or no permanent record of their efficiency on the schools of the town, because the capable teachers on whom they depended did not find conditions such that they were willing to stay here, and the superintendents themselves did not find conditions such that they were willing to stay.

In looking over the school records of not so many years ago I find one year in which not a single school in town retained the same teacher throughout the year, four schools had a different teacher each term, and one had four different teachers during the year. Also none of the teachers of that year taught in the town the previous year, or returned to teach the following one. This record with some modifications is the record of the employment of "skilled workmen" in the "education factories" of Granville in years past. A manufacturing plant with such a record, if it needed skilled labor, could not make first class goods—it would be driven into bankruptcy within five years.

The World War discovered to the nation how close to bankruptcy many of the rural school systems were. A. U. S. report in 1918 says, "The weakest link in the chain of the nation's education and civilization is the rural school. It must be strengthened, let the cost be what it may."

There were no changes in our corps of teachers for the entire school year ending last June. Three of the six teachers employed taught the same schools the year before, and all but one of the six returned in September and are now employed in the schools they taught last year.

In June Miss Madeiros gave up her position in the South Lane school where she had taught for two years, and the place was filled by Miss Kathryn M. Sullivan of Westfield. She is a graduate of Westfield high school and Westfield normal school. This is her first teaching experience.

There are capable and well-trained teachers who like the country and are willing to work in country schools if they can afford to do so, and if working conditions and living conditions are such that they can really teach their schools and be reasonably happy while doing it. educational advantages in Granville.

There is no reason why Granville cannot pay salaries that will enable good teachers to afford to work for us. The State paid over to our town treasurer the past year $5,286.86 for the improvement of

To provide satisfactory living conditions and teaching conditions is a matter of concern for every interested citizen. In city schools fault finding and abuse is not allowed to reach the teacher and disturb her at her work, she is guarded from malicious tongues and is given opportunity to render her best service without anxiety about what the Whites or the Blacks may think about her or say against her. In the country school the teacher comes into closer contact with the community and it is not easy to protect her.

It is no longer lawful to cut off the tongues of mischief makers, but it is the clear duty of communities, and especially of the school officials—school committee and superintendent—to discountenance and discourage irresponsible and unwarranted attacks on the schools. It is easy to say anything—that a school is good for nothing, that a teacher does not earn her wages, etc., etc., through all the list. Now, no such nonsensical talk is ever the truth, often there is not even the shadow of truth about it, but it is calculated to do harm and it does do harm. It takes all the courage out of conscientious and sensitive and efficient teachers and drives them out of our service, it undermines the school system and makes teachers, whom we would like to employ, reluctant to undertake the work.

If the community and all who should be responsible for good schools will inform themselves of actual conditions, and be active in spreading propaganda regarding the excellencies of the valuable teacher, I am sure there will be an incentive for that permanent improvement in the teaching force which only continued service of contented and appreciated teachers can give.

We have no teacher whose imperfections cannot be discovered without the use of a microscope, if we are looking for imperfections. There is not an incompetent teacher at work in Granville today. The work of one who is teaching her third year here has been inspected by the supervisor of practice teaching in Westfield normal school, and as a result Westfield normal school is sending all its graduating class to Granville this year in groups of from three to five each week to observe the work of this school as part of their training in preparation for teaching. In my opinion this action, of Westfield normal school is to the credit of Granville. I think this teacher is worth as much money to us as she is to any one else. In my judgment she is not responsible because Mary Brown is not the best behaved and the brightest child that ever was born. I feel that it would be consummate folly not to give her opportunity to work happily and without unnecessary annoyance.

SUITABLE AND WELL-EQUIPPED BUILDINGS

If we must have factory buildings suited to the work to be done and equipped with modern machinery, we have need to take thought for these things. I do not know when our school houses were built, but every one of them is of the type of fifty years ago. There are none of the things which modern health requirements demand in school buildings, and little up-to-date equipment.

I recommend that the town begin the gradual renovation of its school buildings to bring them up-to-date.

ADEQUATE PROVISION OF BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

I am glad to report that progress has been made during the last three years in providing adequate text-books and supplies. All the text-books in the town have been listed, and as far as funds have been available the schools have been equipped with the necessary supply of books. In some lines of work there are now all the books needed, in others there is still a partial shortage. Maps, globes, and books of reference are still on the waiting list.

SCHOOL NURSE

In compliance with the law requiring the employment of a school nurse, arrangements were made with the Tuberculosis Association for the visitation of one of their trained nurses to our schools. This gives us really capable service at a normal expense.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. SANDERSON

Superintendent.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES FOR COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE, 1922
together with
REPORT OF HAMPDEN COUNTY IMPROVEMENT
LEAGUE, 1922

January 5, 1923.

To the Voters of Granville:

Apples are Granville's biggest crop, and Granville is the apple town of Hampden County. There are approximately 10,000 trees of bearing age in Granville, and anything that increases the quantity or raises the quality of apple production is of greater importance to Granville than to any other town in the county.

William H. Wolff, county horticultural agent, gives at least half his time to apple work. William Hansen, who was elected apple project leader by the Granville branch of the Farm Bureau, has availed himself of Mr. Wolff's close co-operation in the management of his orchard; and his orchard has served as a center through which Mr. Wolff has reached other apple growers in Granville. He estimates that spraying alone added $7,000 to the value of the apple crop in Granville, this year.

A very low production of apples has been the record in Hampden County as a whole. There seems every reason to believe that the apple production of the county can be, and within a very few years will be, twice or thrice the production of a few years back. To help in adding from $100,000 to $200,000 to the apple crop of the county is something for the League to be proud of.

Besides many orchard visits, Mr. Wolff conducted three demonstrations during the year, as arranged by Mr. Hansen. These included two pruning demonstrations in March, one at Martin Tomson's orchard, the other at C. J. Johnson's; and a grading and packing meeting at Mr. Hansen's own place in August.

The 2600 seedling trees in the eight home farm nurseries started by Granville growers in co-operation with Mr. Wolff are doing nicely. The average cost has been about ten cents each, as compared with a price of about fifty cents from nurserymen, a saving of $1,000.

The first Granville Apple Show, staged at the library in October, in connection with the quarterly meeting of League Directors, Trustees and others, showed what fine quality fruit Granville is now producing. Mr. Wolff, and all the growers who co-operated in this Show, are to be congratulated upon the splendid exhibition made at that time, and it is to be hoped that some plan of this sort may be made an annual event.

As with apples, so with other farm products in Hampden County can definite gains in amount and quality be seen. In dairying, the number of pure-bred animals in the county has almost trebled in the past seven years. Last year, largely through the League's leadership, the state adopted a tuberculosis eradication law, of which farmers in Hampden County are rapidly availing themselves. Granville dairymen should apply for tests under this law if they are not to be outdone by surrounding towns.

In potatoes, this past year saw in Hampden County a 700 per cent increase in the use of certified seed which even in this poor potato year added at least $25,000 to the value of the crop in the county. Demonstrations conducted in all parts of the county (including one on the farm of W. J. Cooley of West Granville) showed an average potato production two or three times the average of the county.

Last winter a two-day extension school on soil fertility was held in Granville by Joseph H. Bodwell, county agent, and Mr. Wolff. During this school it was decided to make a farm management survey of Granville in co-operation with Professor A. F. MacDougall of Massachusetts Agricultural College, and later 22 farms were visited to fill in the detailed schedules called for. Results will be given at the extension school to be held this Winter. Dairy testing and poultry work were also conducted by Mr. Bodwell with these farmers who were interested.

In the women's work, the year has seen marked changes. Organization has proceeded along lines new in Hampden County, though well tried out elsewhere, leading to the development of a county Home Bureau made up of all women who are members of the League.

The foundation and strength of the Home Bureau lies in the local communities. All interested women in each community are asked to meet with Miss Lillian M. Stuart, county home demonstration agent, to analyze their common problems, to decide what needs can best be met through League and Trustees, to make a definite program, and to elect capable and representative leaders. In Granville, the following officers were elected:

• Chairman, Mrs. H. B. Dickinson.

Vice-Chairman, Miss Jennie Johnson.

Secretary, Mrs. H. S. Hartley.

Dressform leader, Mrs. R. G. Hiers.

Clothing leaders, Miss Jennie Johnson, Mrs. William Hansen.

During the year, Miss Stuart conducted two dressform demonstrations with a total attendance of 30; Professor W. R. Cole of Massachusetts Agricultural College conducted a demonstration in jam and jelly making attended by 19; and Mrs. Harriet Haynes a discussion on "Saving time and Strength in the Kitchen," attended by 26.

A county-wide project of interest to women of all our towns is the Hampden County Woman's Exchange, which opened at 33 Harrison Avenue, Springfield, in October. The Exchange is a co-operative market for articles made by women at home, these articles being sold through the Exchange at a commission aimed just to cover the cost of doing business. There are four main departments: handcraft, canning, foods and luncheon. There are already 295 consignors.

Enrollments in junior club work have totaled 20, divided among canning, sewing, baby beef, bee, dairy, and sheep clubs. All these projects, except sewing, have been completed, and the total value of products reported has been $1,571.49, with a net value above costs of $491.63. Miss Viola Bettinger, to whom a small amount was paid from the town appropriation, acted as local leader for the canning club, while the county club leaders, Otis E. Hall and Miss Catherine M. Christen, also gave personal leadership in the various projects.

One of the events of the year was the October meeting in Granville attended by League directors, Trustees, Farm Bureau and Home Bureau town chairmen, and the League staff. The ladies of Granville entertained their visitors royally with a fine dinner, and as has already been said a splendid Apple Show was arranged. At this meeting L. B. Dickinson was elected a vice-president of the League.

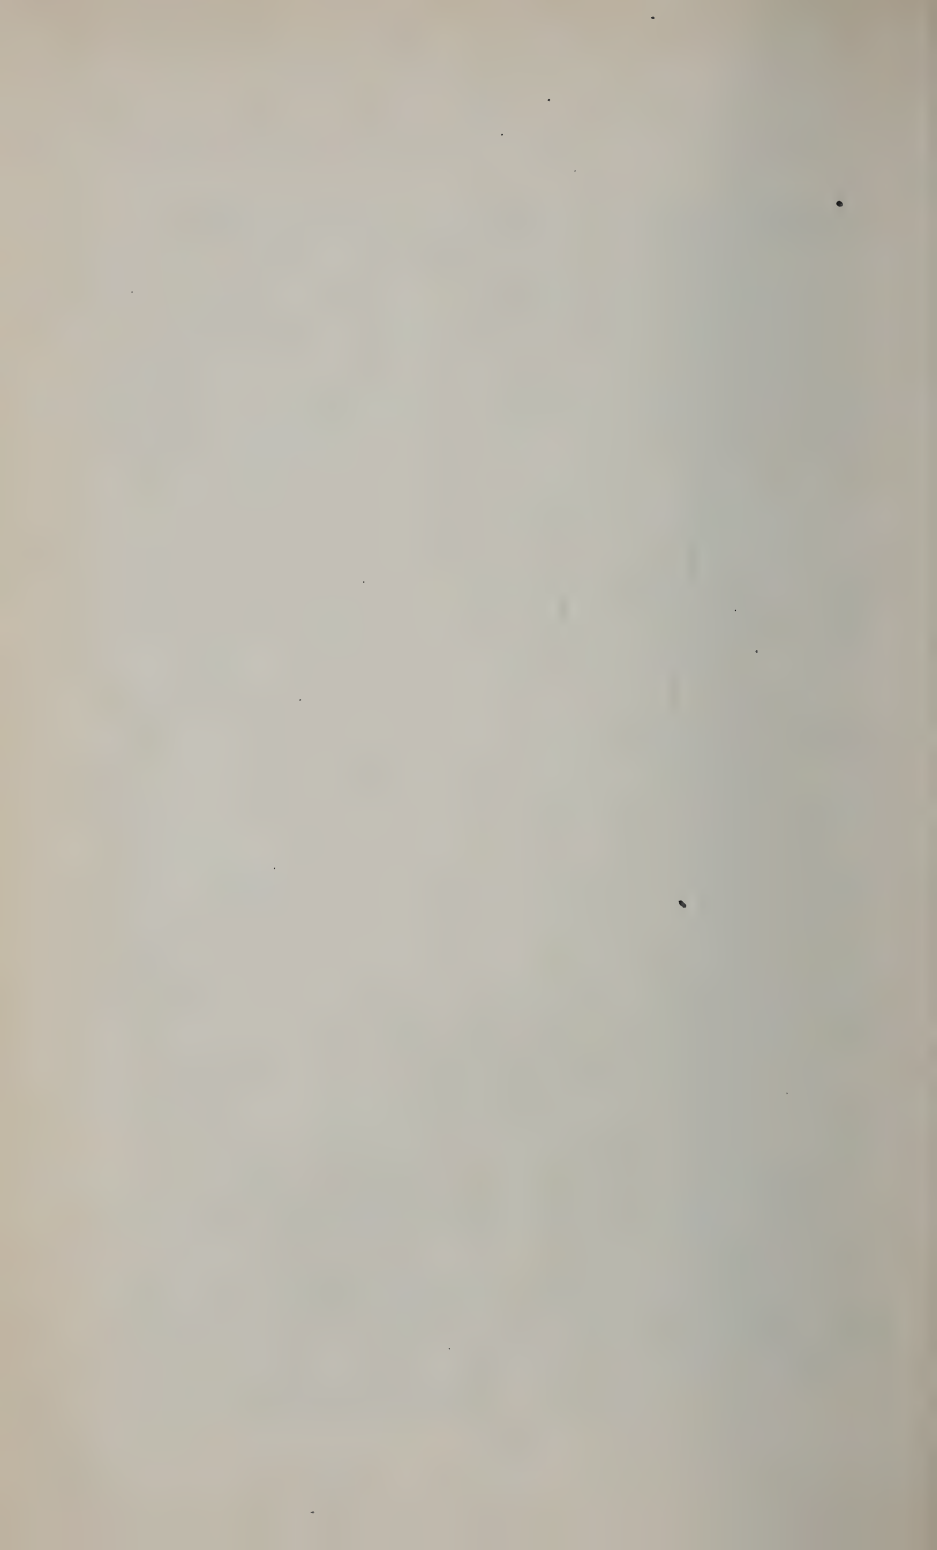

The time given by staff members during the year to the town of Granville has totaled about 37 days, besides the time of specialists and lecturers secured by the League from Massachusetts Agriculture College and elsewhere.

Granville's appropriation for several years has been $200, a generous amount which has been much appreciated and which it is hoped may be continued.

William Hansen has been elected League director for 1923, and George T. Carter is chairman of the Granville branch of the Farm bureau. Either of these men, or any of the other men or women mentioned above will be glad to give further information about the work.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSCOE C. EDLUND, Managing Director.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Granville:

I herewith submit for your consideration and for the consideration of the citizens of Granville my fourth annual report, the twenty-first report since the organization of this superintendency union.

THE TEACHERS

There were no resignations from our corps of teachers during the school year.

In June Miss Vienot of the South Lane school, and Miss Bettinger of the primary grades of the Village school declined the re-election which was offered them.

Miss Vienot had taught the South Lane school for two years. She was a good instructor and had her school under excellent control. She gave as the reason for not wishing to return, that she was tired of the constant personal criticism to which she was subjected from certain quarters.

Miss Bettinger had taught the village primary school for three years. The Westfield normal school had, for the past two years, used this school as a country observation school for its graduating classes. And for the same time Miss Bettinger had given the normal school students talks on the problems connected with the management and instruction of schools of this type. She accepted a position in Longmeadow with fewer grades and a larger salary.

Miss Lees, who had taught very efficiently for the past two years at Beech Hill, was given the place made vacant by Miss Bettinger's resignation, and the vacancy caused by her transfer was filled by the election of Miss Marion G. Seidemann of Springfield, a graduate of Westfield normal school.

The position at South Lane was filled by Miss Catherine C. Clark of Holyoke, a graduate of Bridgewater normal school.

November 1st, Mrs. Nelson gave up the Ore Hill school to join her husband in Connecticut. Mrs. Nelson is a capable teacher and was beginning her fifth year of teaching in the Ore Hill school. The vacancy was filled by Miss Helena B. Womboldt of Newton, a graduate of Framingham normal school.

These three new teachers are intelligent and well-trained young women, but with little previous teaching experience. I bespeak for them the support and sympathetic co-operation of the communities which they are trying to serve.

It is my firm conviction that the only hope of educational salvation for our remote rural schools, far from centers of population and lines of transportation, will depend upon our ability to secure a reasonable permanence in the service of capable and well-trained teachers. I am also sure that one of the most essential factors for good schools and contented teachers in such communities is, on the part of the people, a spirit of watching for and appreciation of honest effort and intelligent service.

THE SCHOOL BUILDINGS

I have just filled out a blank sent out by the State Department of Education inquiring into the condition and equipment of the one-room rural schools of Massachusetts.

I have been obliged to report that we have not a single school building that contains a single one of the modern features which they ask about.

We have not a single building "heating by a furnace or by a jacketed stove" which provides for an equable temperature and makes ventilation possible. All our buildings are heated by stoves in the school room just as they were in our great grandfathers' day. In cold weather there is a torrid area ranging outward from the stove where life is unbearable on account of the heat, and dwindling down to a frigid zone in the rear where comfort is impossible because of the cold.

There is not a cellar under a single one of our school houses. All are built on the surface of the ground with an underpinning more or less open to the weather, like the barns and other outbuildings on the farm where forage crops are stored and animals are sheltered.

We have not a school building that receives "sufficient light from the left only or from the left and rear only." All our school rooms follow the lighting plan of a hundred years ago and receive light from opposite sides of the room. It is a good many years since investigation proved that much harm is done to children eyesight by studying in cross lights. There are those authorities who attribute the prevalent need of spectacles for school children largely to the improper lighting of school rooms. At home the adult does not submit to the eye strain which cross lights cause. He moves his chair. The child's seat in school is screwed to the floor. He has to stay where he is put.

None of our school buildings have the "proper sanitary facilities" which the State asks about—"indoor, flush, or chemical toilets." Our school toilets are of the detached out-door type, some of them located in conspicuous positions, some using the same buildings for both boys and girls. The State Board of Education of Pennsylvania says, "The detached school outhouse is the chief cause of immorality in rural life." The State Dept. of Education of Missouri, "It would be difficult to exaggerate the filthy conditions which exist in connection with cutbuildings of rural schools." Boards of Health are equally strong in condemnation. The attitude of authorities may be summed up in the statement, "A country school with the old style common out-door toilets is a constant menace to the health and morals of every child in that school."

Not one of our schools is equipped with desks that may be adjusted to fit the pupils who occupy them.

All these modern features of rural school buildings are in use, in whole or in part, the country over, and progressive communities that must maintain one-teacher rural schools are paying out their money in the attempt to make school conditions more wholesome and school opportunities more reasonable for their children.

Last summer repairs, long delayed, that were necessary for the preservation of the buildings—paint, shingles, etc.—were made at Ore Hill, North Lane, South Lane, and the village. When the buildings at Beech Hill and the village shall receive a coat of paint on the outside all the school houses in use in town will have been put into a fair state of repair.

If we can continue this expenditure, following a definite plan, and invest a modest sum annually in bringing our school houses up to date, it will not take many years before our school buildings will bring credit to the town, satisfaction to our citizens and to the State Dept. of Education, and some of the decencies and refinements of civilization to our sons and daughters.

THE CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS

The great world war gave this service to America:—It jarred our complacent satisfaction that physically and educationally our country was the paragon of the earth. It brought to the attention of thinking men the needs in the physical and mental training of our children, and especially the inadequacy of the small rural one-teacher school.

A bulletin just received from the Department of Education at Washington says, "Recent surveys by several State school systems have shown that the one-teacher schools are the weakest in the systems. Moreover the small schools are very expensive not only in failing to do their work well but in the actual amount of money spent for each pupil.

"The inherent weaknesses of the small schools are in the difficulty of proper grading, the limited time that can be given to each class or grade, the limited social experience, and the lack of incentive in the small groups. These weaknesses can be overcome only by removing the thing itself, by changing the small school to a larger one."

The idea of consolidating small rural schools began in Massachusetts more than three-quarters of a century ago and has spread over the entire country. During the last ten years the progress of consolidation has been very rapid.

It would not be feasible to bring all the children of Granville together into one school on account of the character of our roads and the difficulty of winter travel.

If a modern, well equipped, two room building could be provided at West Granville, the schools of that section of the town would be made decidedly more desirable from the point of view of the capable teacher and much more valuable for the pupil.

The two room school building at the village is the nearest approach to a graded school that we have. This school, on account of its partial grading, furnishes much the best opportunity for an education of any of our schools, and, on account of its size, it provides such opportunity as it does furnish at a smaller cost per pupil than any other school in town. Last year it cost the town almost four times as much per pupil at the North Lane school as it did at the village.

If the school population of the village and of those sections of the town whose pupils now attend the village school increases so that the present building cannot accommodate them, it would be the part of wisdom and common sense, as well as a saving of money, to increase the size of the village school building and improve the grading of this school rather than to open small and inefficient schools in any parts of the section now cared for by the village school. That is, it would be better to take a step forward for the betterment of the school advantages of our children, rather than to take a step backward into the dark ages from which other communities are trying to emerge.

THE TRANSPORTATION OF PUPILS

Every year requests are made that the town, through the school committee, pay some of the parents for getting their children to school. In many cases where transportation is desired the children live far from the school house, and occasionally the parent owns neither team nor automobile. There is often no question but that it is a hardship for these children, especially if they are young children, to walk to school, but the solution of the problem is not so easy as it may seem to be.

If all the children who do not live near the school houses were carried to school at the town's expense, several thousand dollars would be expended annually for the transportation of children. To pay this would either largely increase the school tax without at all increasing the efficiency of the schools, or, if taken from the present available school money, would seriously weaken the schools. In many cases, too, it is a reasonable question whether, if the town provides schools and all their equipment for educating a child, some responsibility ought not to be assumed by the parent.

The State law on the subject of school transportation may be fairly interpreted by saying that it requires pupils living more than two miles from the school they attend to be transported at public expense. The school committee of Granville have adopted this as their rule governing transportation. To abide strictly by the rule seems the only way to avoid misunderstanding and controversy, even though one's sympathy and personal feeling would make exceptions in special cases.

Granville has only one regular route of paid transportation. I do not say that this transportation should be so conducted that no one would find fault with it, that would probably be impossible; but it should be so managed that there could be no legitimate cause for complaint.

Much attention has been given to the subject of the transportation of pupils in connection with the erection of central graded schools in rural sections of the country. From reports issued by the government at Washington it seems to be the general consensus of opinion that it is best for a town to own a suitable auto bus, fitted for the transportation of children, and that a reliable person should be employed to drive it.

If we should adopt such a plan and procure a small auto bus capable of carrying a dozen or fifteen pupils, we could provide for the comfortable transportation of the children along the entire route for six or seven of the nine months of the school year and would at the same time eliminate all possibility of just criticism regarding the character of the transportation we furnish.

Under the ruling of the State Board of Education on the distribution of the School Fund we would receive from the State one third of our outlay for the purchase, maintenance, and operating expenses of such means of transportation.

The government bulletin suggests that the body of the van be transferred to runners during the winter months and horses be used to furnish the transportation.

A new law affecting the transportation of Granville pupils to high school went into effect at the beginning of the school year in September. In accordance with this law the town is authorized to pay for the transportation or board or both of pupils attending high school, the amount actually expended up to eighty cents a day for each pupil for each day of actual attendance at school.

To obtain payment from the town under the provisions of this act it will be necessary for parents to send to the secretary of the school committee, with their bill, a statement from the high school which the pupil has attended, giving the number of days the pupil has attended school. It will be necessary, also, to state in the bill the cost of transportation or board or both.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. SANDERSON, Superintendent

REPORT OF TRUSTEES FOR COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE, 1923

together with

REPORT OF HAMPDEN COUNTY IMPROVEMENT
LEAGUE, 1923

January 5, 1924

To the voters of Granville:

A first prize canning club at the Eastern States Exposition; a county sheep club champion; one of the most successful extension schools in the county; the taking of records for the second of the three years in the farm management survey of 25 representative farms; the first home nursing group of women in the county; the splendid exhibits of Granville apples at the Eastern States Exposition and the Eastern Apple Show in New York—these are a few outstanding features of a good year of active work in Granville.

Granville makes an annual appropriation to the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture, working in co-operation with the Hampden County Improvement League. Therefore this report of the work accomplished in Granville, and in the county as a whole in 1923, is of interest to every voter.

The Trustees, to whom all public appropriations are made, are an unpaid board named by the County Commissioners to carry on extension activities in agriculture, home-making, and boy and girl club work. The League, as a private membership organization, turns over a large percentage of its funds to the Trustees for their work. The two organizations work in the closest co-operation.

In the county as a whole, the year 1923 has been one of expansion. Three additions to the staff of workers have made possible new lines of work in almost every town. Granville, in common with every other town, will benefit from the series of economic studies being conducted by Samuel C. Hood, one of the three new staff members. Mr. Hood has conducted thorough-going surveys of the market garden and poultry industries and will go on to study other branches of agriculture in the county, with a view to studying the economic situation of each important kind of agriculture in the county and recommending the adoption of new practices wherever they will be of benefit. In line with these economic studies, the county agricultural agents, Wm. H. Wolff and Joseph H. Bodwell have been active in assisting new cooperative marketing ventures. Early in the year, Mr. Bodwell co-operated in activities incidental to the establishment of the Springfield Dairy System, which if successful will be of interest to every dairyman in the county. Mr. Wolff throughout the year has worked in close co-operation with the Hampden County Apple Growers' Association. This association, composed of some of the leading orchardists in the county, including several growers from Granville, started packing, grading and selling its fruits from a central warehouse in Springfield this year, and although none of the Granville growers marketed through the Association, they will watch with keen interest the development of the new enterprise.

The two other additions to the League staff are a Polish worker with women, Miss Wanda Zendzian, and an assistant home demonstration agent, Miss Eunice S. Clark. It was Miss Clark who organized in West Granville the home nursing group referred to, and who secured the co-operation for this work of Dr. C. A. White and Miss Luella Young, the district nurse of the Hampden County Tuberculosis Association.

Apples are the crop of biggest interest to the largest number of farmers in Granville. William H. Wolff, county horticultural agent, spent 10 days of field work in Granville during the year. Besides attendance at the February extension school mention further on, he held on April 10th, two orchard meetings with an attendance of 45, to discuss principally the application of nitrate of soda as a fertilizer before the blossoms open. On April 11, May 18, and May 24, he assisted in the taking of the farm management survey of 25 farms. This survey, dealing with all types of farms and of farm production in Granville, should prove most helpful in the long run in determining the most profitable lines of farming in Granville. As was the case last year, the results of this year's study, carefully compiled and analyzed at Massachusetts Agricultural College, will be presented to the men concerned at a meeting to be held this winter. If desired by these men, it is planned to survey the same farms again in 1924, so as to have a three-year period upon which to base final conclusions and recommendations.

During June, July and August, 17 orchard visits were made and conferences held with growers on fertilization, spraying and thinning. In August, Mr. Wolff also attended a meeting of the Granville Farmers' Exchange at the Library to arrange plans for the Granville Apple Exhibit later put on at the Eastern States Exposition. This exhibit attracted favorable attention from thousands of persons who saw it during the Exposition and was a great credit to the town and the growers who co-operated in its success.

After the Exposition in September, Mr. Wolff again visited Granville to arrange for exhibits of Granville fruit at the Eastern Apple Show in New York City.

Demonstrations encouraging the use of nitrate of soda as fertilizer were, in the opinion of Mr. Wolff, the most important piece of work conducted by him in Granville during the year. Edward Jensen and other growers who co-operated in this work, can report to any who are interested on the contrasts between the fruit on the fertilized and the non-fertilized trees in point of size and better set of fruit, but Mr. Wolff is careful to point out that this is far from the whole story, for unless all of the careful experimental work on this point is upset, the set of fruit in 1924 on the fertilized trees should far exceed that of 1923.

Turning now to the work of Joseph H. Bodwell, county agricultural Agent, Granville farmers shared with others throughout the county in the co-operative purchase of several thousand bushel of certified seed potatoes and the results were so satisfactory as to lead many farmers to desire this type of seed again for 1923. Last winter, therefore, Mr. Bodwell was sent to Maine to inspect certified potato seed in the warehouses there and to make selections for Hampden County farmers. 100 bushel of this seed was bought by Granville growers. This seed planted approximately seven acres of potatoes. The general opinion of those who used the seed throughout the county was that it increased the yield at least fifty bushel per acre. At this rate, Granville potato men secured an increase of about 350 bushel, which at this year's market value of potatoes meant an increased income of $500 for these farmers from this one item.

Granville poultrymen have received similarly effective co-operation from Mr. Bodwell during the year. During the course of Mr. Hood's poultry survey, he and Mr. Bodwell visited eight egg producers in Granville, studying carefully their production costs and problems and giving definite assistance wherever it was required. A group of poultrymen gathered at the Library one evening during the late summer to discuss the possibility of carrying out vitamin tests in poultry feeding. Five men are now carrying on this experiment in co-operation with Mr. Bodwell and Professor Lewis B. Allyn of Westfield. Several Granville poultrymen exhibited their eggs at the Eastern States Exposition to help in the poultry exhibit of the Hampden County League.

In connection with the better sire movement being supported by county agricultural agent, Mr. Bodwell aided one West Granville man in purchasing a pure-bred Ayrshire bull calf to head his herd.

During the past year as a service to farmers engaged in co-operative purchasing in the county, Mr. Bodwell was released for nearly three months to act as manager of the Hampden County Farmers' Exchange. A constructive piece of work was done in the reorganization of the Exchange, but, of course, less time was given to strictly extension activities. The reorganization of the co-operative purchasing work should result in substantial savings to all farmers of the county who avail themselves of it.

One of the best extension schools of the county was that held in Granville in February, where orcharding, poultry, and home economics were discussed. The total attendance was 51 men and women. Albert R. Jenks, former horticultural agent of the League, and well known in Granville, assisted in the work of the school, which was conducted by the county agents, including Miss Lillian M. Stuart, home demonstration agent. It was at the school that plans for the year's work were laid, the idea being to serve the men and women of the community along the lines which they themselves desire.

In the Home Bureau work, under Miss Stuart and Miss Clark, 39 women have been enrolled in millinery, dress forms, and home nursing. Besides a direct saving of $250 in the millinery and dress form work, the women who completed the work feel a greater knowledge and confidence in making their hats and clothes, while they have also enjoyed the community gatherings which study groups of this kind bring together. The home nursing group in West Granville has resulted not only in a better knowledge of care for the patient during sickness, but also in plans to establish a community kit of medical appliances and equipment for the use of any who may need it.

The 1923 Home Bureau committee consists of Mrs. H. B. Dickinson, chairman; Mrs. G. F. Gibbons, secretary, with Mrs. E. W. Humphrey and Mrs. R. G. Heirs as dress form project leaders. In West Granville the dress form leaders were Mrs. Laura Welch and Mrs. Cora Welch, with Mrs. Laura Welch heading the home nursing project. The 1924 program and committee will again be elected at the winter extension school.

In junior club work, Granville's excellent work this year is largely due to the leadership of Mrs. H. B. Dickinson. From the town appropriation it has been possible to pay her in part for the time and effort given, and without such payment it would surely not be fair to expect so much service as she has given.

Reference has already been made to the fact that the Granville canning club beat all the others in the 100-jar exhibit at the Eastern States Exposition, winning a prize of $50. In the canning club work, Mrs. Dickinson had the assistance of Miss Marjorie Smith. Enrollments in garden clubs totalled eleven, in canning ten, in sheep three, in dairy two, and in baby beef one. Edwin Farnham won the county sheep club championship, beating out Blandford in this respect even though the Elkahah Watson Cup for the three years was captured by a Blandford girl and her father.

The total value of Granville youngster's products in the year's club work was $1,380, a very respectable total, and one which well justifies the expenditure from the town appropriation for club work of $120.

Granville, it may be recalled, reduced its appropriation in 1923 from $200 to $125. This may have been in part because of a balance of $65 remaining unexpended for local work at the beginning of 1923 from the appropriation of the previous year. Out of this year's appropriation, however, only $5 remains unspent, and were it not for the $65 above referred to, we would not have available funds for work now going on that must be paid for before the 1924 appropriation becomes available. It is urged that Granville increase for 1924 the appropriation made in 1923, and this is said not because the appropriation is used to build up the county-wide organization of the work but because it is needed and used entirely for local expense in Granville that it is not allowed to be met from the county treasury. For strictly local work, it is desirable that the appropriation be increased.

League officers in Granville include, besides those already mentioned, William Hansen as town director and L. B. Dickinson as one of the vice-presidents, either one of whom will gladly give further information.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSCOE C. EDLUND, Managing Director

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Granville:

I herewith submit for your consideration and for the consideration of the citizens of the town my fifth annual report, the twenty-second report since the organization of this superintendency union.

THE VILLAGE SCHOOL

Last year's report stated that our school buildings, without exception, had none of the modern conveniences which the State Department of Education advises and which other progressive communities are providing.

It became necessary during the year to furnish additional seating in both rooms to accommodate an increase in the number of pupils. Many of the desks and chairs in use were broken, and all were more or less scarred by years of service and contact with the jack knives of generations of school boys, so the building was equipped, during the summer, with modern desks, adjustable to the size of the pupils who are to occupy them. This is the first modern feature to find its way into the school buildings of Granville.

Both rooms of this school are filled to their full capacity, and something must be done to accommodate additional pupils. It is not possible to say how many children will present themselves for admission to the first grade next September, but last fall there were eleven children for this grade; a year ago, nine; and the year before that, twelve. There are eleven pupils to go upstairs from the primary room next fall, and only four to graduate from the grammar school next spring. The indications are for an excess in both rooms in September.

There are at present more than twice as many pupils attending the village school as there are in all the other schools of the town. The first year of my service in Granville there were thirteen pupils upstairs and twenty-one down—a total of thirty-four. Today there is an enrollment of seventy-two, that is, the number of pupils here has practically doubled in five years. None of this increase is due to the closing of other schools, for the North Lane School is the only one closed during this time, and there are no pupils in the village school from that district.

The town should take steps at the annual town meeting towards enlarging and modernizing the village school building.

A pamphlet has been received from the special State committee appointed to report on Progressive Movements in Rural Education in Massachusetts. This report indicates what country communities in this state are doing for the improvement of educational opportunities for their children.

They say that within the past five years more than sixty new or modernized school buildings have been provided by the smaller towns—those of less than 5,000 inhabitants.

I copy the committee's descriptions of a few of these buildings to show the spirit of the times. "The new school building at Windsor is thoroughly modern. It has rooms for manual training and home economics, a community room with comfortable and attractive furniture, books, pictures, and an open fireplace. A moveable partition connects this room with an adjoining class room, so that they may be thrown together. The building has modern plumbing, a sanitary sewage system, and is heated by two furnaces. Water is pumped by a hot air engine from a spring about 600 feet away."

"A new four room building in Russell has a playground of three or four acres, contains a combined assembly hall and gymnasium, lunch room, teachers' room, store rooms, toilets, and wardrobes, and standard heating and ventilating systems."

A brick building has been erected in Hatfield "up-to-date in every particular. It has a playground of from eight to ten acres."

A new building at Wareham "is of hollow tile construction faced with gray tapestry brick, with outside trim of white limestone. The floors are of maple and the walls are hard plastered. It has teachers' room with lavatory and an emergency room with complete equipment. Its assembly room will seat 200 and has an ample stage, accessible by way of wing entrances. It is provided with convenient toilet rooms, is heated by steam, and electrically lighted."

Among the list of old buildings remodeled and modernized is one at North Grafton. "Up-to-date as to lighting, heating, ventilation, sanitation, etc."

"A four room building in Ashby remodeled and made modern in every way."

Ashland, Leverett, Gill, Hopkinton, Lancaster, and Dudley are other small towns that have recently enlarged and modernized old school buildings.

The long list of small towns in the State that within the past five years have furnished modern equipment and conveniences in new or remodelled school buildings contains many towns no better able, at least, to furnish educational advantages to their children than Granville is. I do not believe there is any legitimate reason why Granville should not move up to a place a little nearer the front than the position she is now occupying educationally.

The present village school building should be moved much nearer the street than it now is, turned a quarter way around, and raised up so that the base of the underpinning will be above the level of the street. The building should be enlarged to provide one additional class room now, with the possibility of furnishing another should it be needed for any purpose in the future. Then, the building should be thoroughly modernized in regard to heating, lighting, ventilation, and sanitation.

The initial cost of this work will probably be about $15,000. Payment should be spread over a period of fifteen or twenty years, thereby avoiding any special burden on the tax payers.

TRANSPORTATION

Since last May all pupils living along the transportation route have been carried to school comfortably and speedily by the town auto-bus. The operation of this bus has been as satisfactory as could possibly be hoped for. By making some slight changes in the arrangement of the terms of school, the bus can probably be used for all but six or eight weeks of the school year.

It may be possible for those in charge of the highways to give special attention to improving the roads over which the children are daily carried to school. This will increase the length of the season during which the bus can be used, will add to the life of the machine, and will provide comfort for those who have to be carried to school.

In accordance with a vote of the school committee, taken some years ago, no transportation is provided by the town for children living less than two miles from the school which they attend. This is the extreme limit established by law.

A bulletin issued by the State Department of Education states that the majority of towns having definite transportation regulations regard one and a half miles as the limit of the distance children should be required to walk. A mile and a half is, surely, as far as a child five or six years old should be asked to trudge to and from school each day.

I see no objection to establishing a mile and a half as the distance beyond which transportation shall be provided, except in cases where it is impossible to make satisfactory arrangements without excessive outlay.

If it should seem desirable to make this change in the limit of transportation distance, perhaps another bus route should be established, bringing into school those children living on Granby Road, Silver St., Sodom St., and the old Westfield Road that live nearly two miles from school. Many of these children are small and some are at present carried by the parents at their own expense.

TEACHERS

At the close of the school year in June resignations were received from Miss Kallio, who had been for two years the popular and efficient teacher of the village grammar school, and from Miss Clark, who had taught for a year at South Lane.

Miss Kallio had decided to give up teaching, and Miss Clark declined the re-election offered her because of the difficulty of getting to a church of her faith.

Miss Ruth Foster of Southwick was elected for the village school. She is a graduate of Westfield high school and Westfield normal school, with unusually successful teaching experience. Miss Helen L. Kennedy of Worcester, a graduate of Worcester high school and Worcester normal school was chosen for the South Lane school.

Just before the opening of the schools in September, Miss Seidemann was obliged, on account of ill health, to resign her position at Beech Hill. Miss Ethel T. Army of Millbury was engaged to teach the school. She is a graduate of Millbury high school and Worcester normal school.

All these teachers are doing intelligent and profitable work in their schools, and are proving of value to the communities which they are trying to serve.

SCHOOL NURSE

We continued through the year the capable services of Miss Young of the Hampden County Tuberculosis and Health Association. A brief report of her work follows:

ATTENDANCE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Some of the advantages of a high school education may be summed up briefly as follows: The high school graduate reads better and more understandingly, talks better, thinks better, and, most important of all, has learned how to learn. These are the things that count for growth and advancement and service value in any person's life.

Only a graduate from high school can go to college, or to a State normal school, or to a first class law school, medical school, dental school, or army or navy school of aviation. Only the high school graduate can obtain a place open to promotion in a newspaper office, a bank, railroad office, counting room, or business office.

Over fifty different lines of work for mechanics are closed to boys who have not graduated from high school, according to a recent list prepared by the United States Bureau of Labor.

The State shows its appreciation of the need of high school education for the men and women who are to become the citizens of the Commonwealth by making it possible for every qualified boy or girl to secure this education with no expense to their parents for tuition, or transportation to and from school.

The wage earning capacity of the boy or girl of high school age is very small. Every parent should give the child who is able to profit by high school training an opportunity to secure it; and every child who is given this opportunity should accept the chance with the determination to make the most of it.

To have one's name enrolled in a school is not a guarantee of an education or of success in life. No school is an insurance company. It is rather a stock company, where one's returns depend on what one invests. If one is willing to put little or nothing in the way of seriousness and high-mindedness, energy and determination into a school investment, he can draw little or no dividends in the way of strength of mind and character.

Every worthy boy or girl should be given a fair chance. Benjamin Franklin says, "An investment in brains always pays the best interest."

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. SANDERSON,
Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF TRUSTEES FOR COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE, 1924

together with

REPORT OF HAMPDEN COUNTY IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE, 1924

January 5, 1925

To the voters of Granville:

During the year 1924 the work which is being conducted by the Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture in co-operation with the Hampden County Improvement League, progressed everywhere in an encouraging way. Since Granville makes an annual appropriation to the Trustees, the work accomplished in your town will be of interest to the voters.

Staff members attended fifty-one meetings in Granville during the year. These included study groups, junior club meetings and field demonstrations, also gatherings of a public character such as the two extension schools at Granville and West Granville and three junior club exhibits.

As apples are Granville's biggest crop, four orchard demonstration meetings were held and visits made by Mr. Bodwell and Mr. Locke to twelve fruit growers, seven of whom are conducting demonstrations of nitrate of soda as a fertilizer. Other farm visits dealt with poultry and dairying.

A number of orchardists from Granville entered exhibits at the new Hampden County Apple Show arranged by the League at the Eastern States Exposition. Prizes were won by L. B. Dickinson & Sons, William Hansen, Marius Jensen & Sons, and Edward Jensen. Granville apples were seen and admired by many thousand people at the Exposition.

Junior Club work in Granville and West Granville was under the supervision of Mrs. H. B. Dickinson who co-operates with Otis E. Hall and Miss Helen E. Doane and who also used Mrs. Bernice Dickinson and Mrs. Curtis Hunt as assistants.

In West Granville, club work was started for the first time in a canning club during the summer and a clothing club during the fall. These clubs were successful, and in 1925 we expect a bigger interest still. In addition, Granville had four clubs in clothing, gardening, poultry and millinery, with one father-son team in the sheep club work. The total enrollment in junior clubs in Granville was 66.

A women's millinery group was led by Miss Susan Phelon, Mrs. Curtis Hunt, and Mrs. Mary Gill, who attended a series of training conferences in Springfield conducted by Miss Lillian M. Stuart.

Granville also had two of the five groups in the county studying home nursing. Miss Eunice Clark gave instruction on food for the sick, while Miss Luella Young of the County Tuberculosis Association demonstrated bed-side care and Dr. C. A. White gave instructions on the prevention of communicable diseases and demonstrated first aid. The leaders of this project were Mrs. William Hunt in Granville and Mrs. Laura Welch in West Granville.

The Granville Home Bureau committee consisted of Mrs. H. B. Dickinson, chairman; Mrs. E. N. Humphrey, vice-chairman; and Mrs. R. G. Hiers, secretary.

Granville in 1924 appropriated $200 to the Trustees. Of this amount, $164 was expended for local club work with boys and girls. This work has never been more successful, and in order that it may be continued in the same fine way, the Trustees request a renewal of the appropriation. Mrs. H. B. Dickinson, who is our Granville director for 1925 can give further information, as can L. B. Dickinson, one of the League vice-presidents and J. E. Downs, director for West Granville.

Very truly yours,

ROSCOE C. EDLUND, Managing Director

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of the Town of Granville:

I submit this school report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1925.

The total membership of our Elementary Schools for the Fall Term was 120. A tabulated statement of their distribution is given at the end of this report.

Thirteen pupils are attending High Schools as follows:

Westfield High	7
Springfield Central High	1
Springfield Technical High	2
Smith's Agricultural School	3

It appears, therefore, that the town's expense for High School education is moderate. Even the facilities are not so convenient, yet pupils are able to secure greater variety of courses to fit their several needs than are pupils in many towns of this size. It is to be hoped that a larger number will avail themselves of these opportunities in the future.

The school housing situation in Granville is one which requires serious thought and constructive planning. Because the number of pupils at the Center exceed the capacity of the building, it has been found necessary to open the North East School and transport all 7th, 8th and 9th Grade pupils there. This is inconvenient and expensive. Twenty-two children and driver are more than can ride in the bus with comfort and entire safety. I hope a way can be found to avoid continuing this practice. The distribution of the 120 pupils is here given:

Those pupils who would attend at the Center	72
South Lane	21
Ore Hill	14
Beech Hill	13
	120

It will thus be seen that the school population of the town naturally lies in three groups. One group would attend the Center School, one at West Granville and one at Beech Hill.

Present school buildings need extensive repairs to make them suitable for continued school use. Let me mention some of the needs. Every school room is now lighted from opposite sides or from three sides. Each of the six rooms is heated by a stove. In severe weather those children sitting near the stove are very warm while those far away are cold. None of the buildings are provided with toilets accessible from the school room. Ventilation is very poor in most of the buildings. The room at South

Lane is not large enough for the present school. Ore Hill School floor has settled in the middle so as to tilt the seats on an angle dangerous to the health of children. The two-story building with winding stairway at the Center School subjects pupils on the upper floor to real danger in case of fire.

I have mentioned some of the problems which we should consider in addition to the regular item of repairs. I have done this in order that you may verify my observation and plan for improvements as you deem advisable.

I would recommend that a survey be made to determine the cost of needed repairs and alterations on old buildings together with their adaptability to future needs. Compare this with the cost of a new two-room building at West Granville, a new building or extensive alterations on the old one at the Center. Alterations at Beech Hill should be made to furnish proper light, heat and out-buildings. This is a project which might require three or four years to complete but it appears that some start should be made at once to care for the children in a way more in harmony with the ideals of the people of Granville. Such investment will return large dividends.

Because of the number of classes and the small number in each class, a system of grouping children in some subjects has been started. Classes have been grouped in History and Geography, Grades 5 and 6 forming one group and Grades 7, 8 and 9 forming another. Geography is taken the first half year and History the last half. In some cases groups have been formed for Reading, children being grouped according to their reading ability. Some classes in English have also been combined. This grouping makes somewhat larger classes, tends to make the work more interesting and allows longer time for class-work in each group.

The Stanford Achievement Test has been given in all Granville Schools this Fall. This test is designed to show how the achievement of our grades compares with the achievement of like grades in other places, it gives us an understanding of the child's difficulties in his several subjects and shows whether children are in the proper grade. Parents are urged to study the tests of their children and co-operate with the teacher in securing the best results.

During the coming year, we should introduce more modern texts in History and English. We also need a substantial increase in our Reading material. I hope these items will be considered in making up the annual budget.

We should install jackets around the stoves to help in the more even distribution of heat.

In closing, I wish to express my indebtedness to each member of the School Committee for time and co-operation with which you have been so generous. Parents, teachers, children and towns-people are working together toward one common aim. Continued co-operation is sure to bring success.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. PRATT.

The following report is submitted by the School Nurse for the year closing Dec. 31, 1925:

PROGRAM OF SCHOOL NURSING SERVICE FOR GRANVILLE

Assisting the school physician with yearly examinations.

Follow-up work of corrections recommended by physician. This consists of home visits to be sure the parents understand, and in some cases helping to make a plan for corrections.

Observation of Nutrition and growth of children. Weighing 3 or 4 times during school year.

Helping organize and carrying on the yearly chest clinic for the thorough examination of those children who are 10 per cent or more underweight or who for other reasons seem to need such an examination. Follow-up work incidental to recommendations of clinic physicians.

Inspection of children for pediculi and other things which would make their attendance at school inadvisable.

Talks to the children on health and personal hygiene.

Recording weights, physical examinations, etc., on State Physical Record Cards which are kept for each child and designed to go through the child's school life.
